Follow Up Night Blow At Berlin

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(CP)—The Red Army has captured Mga, 30 miles southeast of Leningrad, an order-of-the-day said tonight.

MOSCOW, Jan. 21.—Russian armies poured through the collapsed anchorages of the 110-mile German fortified line between Leningrad and Lake Ilmen today in scythe-like sweeps deep into the enemy's rear positions which threatened to envelop an estimated 300,000 Nazi troops.

Front dispatches said veteran Soviet divisions were cutting down panicky German soldiers by the thousands in the greatest battle of extermination since Stalingrad.

(Berlin acknowledged that strong Soviet forces had broken through the outer German defences below Leningrad and a "straightening of the front," but claimed that incessant Russian attacks against the new Nazi positions were unsuccessful.

(Seeking apparently to divert attention from the Leningrad-Novgorod front, a Berlin communiqué said the Russian offensive in the Vitebsk area to the south had been thwarted and more than 40,000 Soviet troops killed in that sector since Dec. 13.)

OPEN NAZI FLANKS
The collapse of the German anchor positions at Leningrad and Novgorod opened the Nazi flanks for pincer incursions by Siberian, Volga, Ural and central Russian divisions. They left behind special detachments to mop up German units already trapped beyond hope of escape.

Thousands of Germans, cut off from their main forces in the snow-covered forests by the speed of the Soviet thrusts, surrendered rather than face certain death. More than 3,000 submitted to capture around Novgorod, which fell yesterday.

The toll of enemy dead on the two fronts already was approaching 45,000. More than 40,000 were slain in the first six days of the co-ordinated offensives, all but 15,000 of them south and southwest of Leningrad.

New Airfields Start Made on Alternate Air Line to Alaska

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—(CP)—A start has been made on the development of a new air route to Alaska, north and east of the present Northwest Staging Route from Edmonton to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, it was learned yesterday.

The new route will follow the old Canadian air trail down the Mackenzie river valley and branch northwards from McPherson via Bell-Porcupine and Blue Fish-Porcupine in the northern Yukon to Alaska.

Survey parties of the R.C.A.F. and transport department now are in the field attempting to set out sites on Canadian soil, the Warline Information Board said in a review of northwestern developments. These fields will connect with the present Mackenzie river chain of airports from Fort McMurray, Alta., to Norman Wells, N.W.T.

NEW AIRFIELDS
The extension will involve the construction of airfields at Good Hope, Aretic Red River and McPherson, all familiar ports of call

2.88 Per Cent.

Manitoba Bonds Sold at Lowest Rate in History

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Premier Stuart S. Garson said tonight that a sale of an issue of $3,334,000 refunding debentures at a price of 2.88 per cent has been made in the United States market. The issue, payable in U.S. funds was made to meet provincial debentures falling due later this year.

Sale of the new debentures was negotiated with the First National Bank of Chicago and sold to the First National Bank in Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Chicago.

Mr. Garson said the sale was effected at the lowest rate for a comparable issue in the history of Manitoba financing on the American or Canadian markets. The debentures are for a four-year term and bear 2 1/2 per cent interest.

MEANS BIG SAVING

Of the maturing interests $2,975,000 was originally issued at five per cent and the balance, a short term issue at 3 per cent. Had the province paid the two issues when they became due, it would have had to pay 11 per cent in exchange, or the sum of $366,740.

Exchange rates may be equalized within four years and if they are not the province would be no worse off, Mr. Garson said. Manitoba will not have to go into the financial markets again until 1945, he added.

The new issue will be dated Feb. 15, 1944, and will be callable on interest payment dates starting 30 months after the date of the debentures, provided 30 days' notice is given. If redeemed on a date 30 months or 36 months after the date of the debentures, there will be a premium of 1/4 of one per cent on the principal amount redeemed. Redemption on an interest payment date after 36 months from the date of the debentures would be at par.

The interest rate obtained in the deal was below that negotiated for a five-year issue in May, 1943, at three per cent.

No Pleasure Car Production in U.S. Until Japs Beaten

CLEVELAND, Jan. 21.—(AP)—There will be no production of pleasure cars in the United States until the end of the war with Japan, a War Production Board official declared here yesterday in spiking "wild rumors" of a general return to civilian production in the immediate offing.

John C. Virden, regional W.P.B. director, said in a statement recent contract cancellations and cutbacks "are no indication a reconversion to civilian production is imminent."

Relief Fund

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Britain is setting aside at once nearly $100,000,000 (about $450,000,000) for the relief of countries liberated from the Nazis, The Daily Express reported today.

Premier Denies Province's Debt Being Refunded

Premier Ernest Manning on Friday denied a report that the Alberta government had approved a 3 1/2 per cent basis for refunding the province's public net debt of approximately $120,000,000.

While negotiations and conferences have taken place regarding refunding the public debt, the premier said that no plan on the basis of 3 1/2 per cent had been approved.

The Financial Post of Toronto carried the story that the Alberta government had approved a rate of 3 1/2 per cent for a refunding of the provincial debt.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A British submarine, penetrating to within a few hundred miles of Singapore, sank a 5,100-ton Japanese cruiser in the northern approaches to Malacca Straits, the Admiralty announced today in a communiqué that in effect proclaimed this country a full partner in the Pacific sea war.

The cruiser, of the 24-year-old Kuma class, was blasted to the bottom of the Bay of Bengal with two torpedoes from a submarine operating under the command of the "chief of the eastern fleet," the admiralty said.

The same submarine also sank three large Japanese supply ships, the communiqué added, but did not specify the locale of these sinkings.

The communiqué provided the first official mention in recent months of the British "Eastern fleet" or of British naval units operating as far afield as the northern approaches to the Malacca Straits, which separate Singapore and the Malay States from the Dutch island of Sumatra, with the exception of a few Australian warships co-operating with the U.S. navy.

With the acquisition of Italian and French warships and the constant building of new vessels Britain can be expected to expand her striking forces in the East rapidly, informants said.

Three Alberta Men In Casualty List

Three Alberta men are listed as wounded in an official casualty list released Friday. They are Pte. William Frederick Rhind, son of Mrs. Nellie Rhind, 11328 83 street; Pte. Arthur Mitchell Ward, whose sister, Miss Elsie D. Ward, lives at 9838 77 avenue, Edmonton, and Pte. Donald Henry Warren, son of Henry Warren, Ashmount.

Alberta Farms Have Big Yield In Last Year

The gross value of agricultural production in Alberta for the year 1943 is estimated to be $343,691,000 provincial government department of agriculture officials announced Friday. The amount is a decline of approximately $21,000,000 from corresponding aggregate for 1942.

The $21,000,000 decline occurred wholly in the value of grain, root and fodder crops, which were some $32,000,000 lower in value in 1943 than in 1942.

The drop in grain crops' value is accounted for by wheat alone, of which 80,000,000 bushels were harvested in 1943, compared to 178,000,000 bushels harvested in 1942.

Increases in value were registered last year in livestock production and in the value of dairy products, poultry products, and in production of honey and wool.

Livestock marketings showed an increase of $14,000,000 over 1942 marketings; dairy products were up by over $2,000,000; poultry products advanced by $2,750,000, and honey and wool production increased by approximately $200,000 and $75,000 respectively.

Comparative production figures for the years 1943 and 1942 (with 1942 figures in brackets) are as follows:

Grain, root and fodder crops, $199,865,000 ($231,568,000); livestock marketings, $90,810,700 ($75,031,000); dairy produce, $34,181,000 ($31,770,200); poultry produce, $17,333,600 ($14,568,000); honey, $551,000 ($362,500); and wool $950,000 ($885,600).

Japan's Defeat Essential For Peace of World

There will be no peace in the world until Japan is utterly and finally beaten, and after Germany's defeat, Canada, and all the Allied Nations must pour as much of their efforts into the defeat of Japan as into the defeat of the Nazis, stated Burton T. Richardson, Ottawa, chief correspondent for the Winnipeg Free Press in the parliamentary press gallery, who arrived in Edmonton Friday to address a meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

He has just returned from a tour of Australia, New Zealand, and the Pacific theatre of war where he conferred with Australian and United States army leaders, and representatives of the Australian government.

He said that the defeat of Japan will not be short or easy. One fear in Australia is that "We in North America and the people of Britain might permit Japan to escape by some peace offensive launched by Tokyo."

When the European war ends, whenever that may be, the psychological adjustment required of the people of Canada and other countries, to accept the fact that a

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Soviet representative has assured Britain that the Russian government had no knowledge of the Pravda "separate peace rumor" dispatch prior to its publication, diplomatic sources reported today.

V. G. Dekanozov, Soviet deputy foreign commissar, was reported to have expressed surprise at the furor created by Pravda's publication of a "rumor from Cairo" that Britain and Germany had engaged in separate peace talks.

Dekanozov was said to have told John Balfour, charge d'affaires of Great Britain at Moscow that he had heard nothing of the rumor before he read it in the newspaper.

London, meanwhile, was reported to be willing to drop the whole matter as merely a "regrettable incident."

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—An order-in-council designed to ensure full pay and allowances for all battle casualties of the Canadian armed forces until they have been discharged from hospital in "A-1" condition, or until after medical treatment has been completed and commensurate pensions have been awarded, is being considered by the cabinet, it was reliably reported here today.

Pensions Minister Ian Mackenzie, whose department supervises the rehabilitation of service personnel, is reported to be urging passage of the order, but, according to information given to the British United Press, the majority of cabinet members are questioning the need for its adoption on the grounds that present legislation covering discharges from the armed forces is adequate.

MANY COMPLAINTS

Need for such an order, it was said, arises out of numerous complaints from various sections of the Dominion and from organizations including the Canadian Legion, which have a prime concern for the WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The United States navy announced today that United States submarines have sunk 12 more enemy vessels, nine were freighters, two transports and the 12th a large tanker.

These sinkings bring to a total of 408 the number of Japanese ships sunk by United States submarines. In addition, 36 have been probably sunk and 114 damaged for a total of 558.

News of these latest successes followed closely a London announcement that a British submarine had penetrated to within a few hundred miles of Singapore and had sunk a five-thousand-ton Japanese cruiser.

The latest victories of the U.S. submarines, together with the British success, brought to at least 1,012 the total number of Japanese ships sent to the bottom by Allied forces since Pearl Harbor. These include at least 247 warships.

U.S. Casualties Exceed 141,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Casualties totalling more than 141,000 have been suffered by the American armed forces since the United States entered the war.

The latest over-all summary of army casualties was 105,229 through Dec. 23, as announced last week by war secretary Henry Stimson. However, this total included only part of the 18,119 American army casualties in Italy announced at the same time, and in the last week the total for the Italian campaign has increased to 19,210.

The navy reported 35,257 casualties in all its branches—25,225 in the navy, 9,390 in the marine corps and 442 in the coast guard.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Stories of heroism on the battlefields of Sicily were disclosed today with the release of citations covering 33 awards to men of the Canadian army. The awards were announced in December.

Eleven officers won three memberships in the Distinguished Service Order and eight Military Crosses. Twenty-two other ranks were awarded four Distinguished Conduct Medals and 18 Military Medals.

The list of citations for seven Albertans follows:

Major William Gladstones Bury, 45, D.S.O., E.D., "D" Company, Loyal Edmonton Regiment of Edmonton, Alberta. (Posthumous)

On the evening of 26th July, 1943, "D" Company, Edmonton Regiment, under command of Major Bury, then west of Agira was ordered to occupy and hold an isolated post astride a road leading from Agira. "By map and compass, on this dark and moonless night, this officer unerringly led his men across country over the six-mile stretch of rugged, precipitous rock. Reaching the post at dawn, Major Bury personally led the bayonet charge which captured the post, then the company dug in.

"Between the time it became possible to relieve them, some twelve hours later, "D" Company under Major Bury's gallant, skilful and courageous leadership successfully fought off three major German counter-attacks, patrolled, located and blew up a large ammunition dump, skilfully laid 75 anti-tank mines which blew up two enemy tanks, five lorries and effectively blocked the north road as an avenue of retreat."

Major Archibald Scott Donald, 36, D.S.O., "C" Company, Loyal Edmonton Regiment of Edmonton, Alberta.

"Point 736, a 500-yard high rocky and precipitous feature four miles north of Regaluto, held by some 250 Germans was the object of "C" Company Edmonton Regiment's attack on August 3, 1943.

"This feature had been taken and lost by counter-attack four times in CANBERRA, Australia, Jan. 21.—Australia and New Zealand signed a far-reaching mutual aid pact today, calling for the closest post-war co-operation between the two dominions on all problems affecting their security and common interests in the Pacific.

Prime Ministers John Curtin of Australia and Peter Fraser of New Zealand signed the 44-point accord, which must now be submitted to their respective parliaments for approval.

The agreement, hailed by Curtin as a "landmark in international collaboration in the Pacific," claimed full responsibility by New Zealand and Australia for the policing of such areas of the south and southwest Pacific as may be decided upon subsequently within the framework of a general world security system.

It established "zones of defence" for the two dominions extending through a vast arc of islands north and northeast of Australia to Western Samoa and the Cook Islands.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A great armada of Allied bombers rocked the French invasion coast with almost 2,000 tons of high explosives today after a record fleet of R.A.F. and Dominion night raiders had pounded Berlin with more than 2,300 tons of bombs.

A five-mile parade of Allied daylight raiders, that included almost every type of bomber in the Anglo-American arsenal, streamed across the Dover Straits to rip up the network of German steel and concrete gun emplacements in the Pas de Calais sector.

Swarms of R.A.F. Spitfires and Thunderbolts and Lightnings covered the great bombing formation, and the Luftwaffe again stayed out of their range.

It was the fourth major daylight blow at the invasion coast since the 3,000-plane Christmas Eve attack. Varying cloud formations obscured the bombing results of some formations, but returning crewmen reported that the target area was convulsed by violent explosions.

GREATEST NIGHT FORCE

More British bombers than ever struck at Berlin before were understood to have carried the knock-out offensive back to the Nazi capital last night. And the R.C.A.F. announced its squadrons dropped their heaviest load of the war. The bomb tonnage, however, was believed to have been short of a record 2,576 tons delivered last Nov. 22.

The size of the previous record fleet attacking Berlin never had been announced. But in a double-header attack on Berlin and Ludwigsfelde on Nov. 18, the British press estimated that nearly 1,000 bombers were used. On that basis last night's force was believed to have numbered around 900.

35 BOMBERS LOST

Altogether 35 bombers were lost in the Berlin assault. Mosquito nuisance raids on northwest Germany and mine-laying operations, of which nine were Canadian.

Mr. Burns got up as usual at 7 a.m. and went about his daily chores on the farm. When he did not return, his wife went to look for him about the farm, but being unsuccessful she sought the aid of a neighbor, J. A. Smith, who, with a friend, searched the Burns' farm.

Mr. Burns was found at the bottom of the well. R.C.M.P. and Coroner Dr. Corbett were notified and it was concluded that Mr. Burns had fallen accidentally into the well.

He is survived by his wife and two married daughters.

British Battering Back Nazis

General Retreat by Nazis Indicated in Western Italy

By C. R. CUNNINGHAM
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

ALGIERS, Jan. 21.—Battle-hardened British troops lunged northward along the Apennine Way beyond captured Minturno and fought the Nazis back step by step across a 10-mile stretch of the lower Garigliano valley today, as front reports indicated the Germans were preparing for a general retreat in western Italy.

An official announcement confirmed German reports that Minturno, coastal anchor of the Nazi line below Rome, fell to the British yesterday after a furious battle in which the big guns of British warships and swarms of Allied dive bombers joined with crushing effect.

Forward patrols swept on beyond the town with a speed that gave the hard-pressed Germans no time to organize a full-scale counter-attack.

Farther up the Garigliano valley, other British units of the Allied 5th army battled to drive the Germans from high ground two miles beyond the river. Particularly fierce fighting was reported in progress in the outskirts of Castellote, seven miles inland, and at the village of Ventosa, 500 yards west of Castellote.

On the right wing of the British offensive line, French mountain troops crossed the upper reaches of the Rapido River north of Cassino and captured Mount Il Lago, increasing the threat of encirclement to the Germans in Cassino. American troops directly before Cassino clashed repeatedly with Nazi patrols that stabbed across the Rapido, and captured enemy troops revealed that their commanders were hastening construction on a new "Adolf Hitler line" six miles west of their present "Gustav line."

The reports suggested that the Germans were preparing to pull out of Cassino to avoid encirclement by the converging Allied forces, thus permitting an Allied break-through along the Via Cassina, inland highway to Rome.

The main weight of the 5th Army offensive, however, appeared to be centred for the moment on the Minturno area where the Nazis had concentrated their strongest defences along the Apennine Way, some 75 miles below Rome.

OUT OF ARTILLERY RANGE

(The capture of Minturno put the British troops more than two miles beyond the Garigliano, and a Radio Cairo broadcast said the 5th Army bridgeheads across the river were now beyond range of the German artillery.)

The Cairo broadcast suggested that the weight of the British offensive had forced a considerably deeper German withdrawal on the west coast than was reported in the headquarters communique, which covered operations through Thursday.

Today's communique said constant pressure was maintained on the German lines all across the Italian peninsula, with Allied planes and artillery battering relentlessly at the Nazi forward positions.

Fighters and fighter-bombers bombed and strafed enemy communications and gun positions all along the battle line, and one formation was believed to have destroyed an important supply bridge behind the German lines at Cassino.

Raiders of the desert air force also attacked in great strength in advance of the British 8th Army, striking in 12 separate waves against the junction town of Popoli, on the lateral highway from Pescara to Rome.

Front dispatches said the Russians had cleared the entire Gulf of Finland coast from Oranienbaum, 15 miles west of Leningrad, to a point only a couple of miles from the larger city.

(Radio Berlin said the Germans also had evacuated a 17-mile salient reaching east of Leningrad from Kolpino, completing the lifting of the siege that began Aug. 21, 1941.)

Gen. Kyril A. Meretskov's army ripping into the German eastern flank swept six miles beyond Novgorod, 100 miles south of Leningrad, and captured Naschi on the railroad west to Batetsk. Dolgovo, 13 miles northwest of Leningrad, also was captured.

The only activity reported in the Soviet communique from the Ukraine was the slaying of 1,500 Germans and the wrecking of 32 tanks in the repulse of counter-attacks north of the Khrystinovka railroad junction.

Under the present system, it was pointed out to the British United Press, some members of the forces who have been wounded in the line of duty have been repatriated to Canadian military hospitals for completion of medical treatment. While there, according to the report, they have been discharged from service because of the unlikelihood that they will be of further use to the forces.

Some of these cases have been placed in "Class 20" of the pensions regulations, being allowed "treatment allowance." Under this section of the regulations the patient is provided "in-patient" treatment, but does not receive full hospital allowance" subject to certain conditions.

2 EDMONTON CASES

In two specific cases brought to the attention of Pensions Minister Mackenzie, by the Canadian Legion, battle casualties were reported placed in an Edmonton hospital, and while there still undergoing treatment, were discharged from the army and given "treatment allowance" until pensions were awarded.

According to the report, in neither case had the Pensions Commission been informed of the proposed discharges and no arrangements had been made for the granting of veterans' pensions to the men.

In one case—that of a captain—the discharged army man was said to have been in the Edmonton hospital for only a short while after being repatriated from Britain where he had received serious shrapnel wounds, when he was informed he was no longer a member of the armed forces. This automatically cut off his captain's pay and the allowances which had been paid to his aged parents.

MEET AT MIKHAILOVKA

The two columns presumably met at Mikhailovka, nine miles south of Leningrad, and also captured the railroad junction of Uritsk, three miles west of Leningrad; Strelan, seven miles southwest, and Nikorovo, 33 miles west southwest.

Front dispatches said the Russians had cleared the entire Gulf of Finland coast from Oranienbaum, 15 miles west of Leningrad, to a point only a couple of miles from the larger city.

The bombing was carried out far above solid cloud bank against which the German searchlights flattened, unable to finger out the raiding fleet sweeping over in shoals.

OPPOSITION WEAK

The Germans used some rocket-launching fighters and laid out flare lanes, but the opposition generally was weak. Pilots who had taken part in seven and eight previous Berlin raids said this one was "easy."

Pilots of Canadian Lancasters and Halifaxes reported the ground defences of the Nazi capital were weak and that Nazi fighters were not very aggressive.

Other Allied air formations put the assault on Hitler's European fortress back on an around-the-clock basis with daylight raids on the French invasion coast today. Big fleets of bombers flew over the southeast coast in the direction of Dieppe.

The four-engined R.A.F. and Dominion heavyweights, which included Australian squadrons, ended Berlin's 17-night respite, touching off large conflagrations that sent smoke mushrooming high in the night sky, the air ministry announced.

The attack was described as "very heavy," and other reports indicated it may have exceeded in tonnage the 2,500-ton raid of November 22, the heaviest Berlin raid according to official figures.

the preceding three days, and on this afternoon German mortar and machine-gun fire dominated and swept the open 1,500-yard approach. Major Donald, commanding "C" Company, skillfully used the little available cover, provided his covering fire from a section of his own company, provided for artillery fire controlled by himself through a chain of runners, and then personally led the company up, across and around the bullet-swept feature into a position from which the height was assaulted and captured with a minimum of loss. No Germans escaped and only four were taken prisoner.

"The courage, the gallantry, the skill and inspiring leadership of Major Donald was largely responsible for the success of this operation."

Lieut. John Alpine Dougan, 22, M.C., Loyal Edmonton Regiment of Edmonton, Alberta:

"Spot Height, 236, a high feature north of Regalbuto was the objective of "D" Company, Edmonton Regiment, August 5, 1943. The approaches to it was devoid of cover and the feature was strongly held by a number of mortar and machine-gun posts."

"Lieut. Dougan, commanding the forward platoon, successfully led his platoon forward to within 300 yards of the objective when it came under heavy machine-gun fire. Lieut. Dougan was wounded in both arms and both hands; he could hold his revolver only by gripping it with both hands. Under intense pain he led the platoon across the 300-yard strength of open ground under continuous observed fire, led the charge on the objective and captured it. After directing consolidation of the platoon objective, this officer was carried out of action."

"The gallantry of Lieut. Dougan merits the highest praise."

M1707 Cpl. Allan Gee Cheshire, 29, D.C.M., Loyal Edmonton Regiment, of Ashmont, Alberta:

"On the evening prior to the dawn attack by the Edmonton Regiment, on Agira from the west, July 29, 1943, a fighting patrol of one section under Cpl. Cheshire was sent out northwest across rugged and difficult country to attack and destroy at daybreak, an enemy machine-gun and mortar post, which dominated a road leading from Agira to the east."

"Just before daybreak, as the patrol approached the enemy position, its presence was discovered, fire was opened at short range from a ledge half way up a rugged feature some 300 feet high and two soldiers became casualties."

"Cpl. Cheshire quickly appreciated the situation, disposed his section in a position from which it could give him covering fire and heedless of his own safety, went on alone."

"By skillful use of cover he got behind the feature, then scaled in the semi-darkness an almost vertical cliff 50 feet in height, stalked his quarry, and with grenades, rifle and bayonet charged the post, killed six and captured six German prisoners."

M15708, Pte. John Low, 25, D.C.M., Loyal Edmonton Regiment of Rochford Bridge, Alberta:

"The Edmonton Regiment was ordered to attack Point 736, a high feature north of Regalbuto, August 2, 1943. The three-mile approach to the objective was up a rising slope virtually devoid of cover and from the height, enemy mortar, artillery and machine-gun fire poured down on the advancing troops."

"B Company advanced some 2,000 yards, when the intensity of the enemy fire across the path of advance caused casualties and made a re-organization necessary."

"A call came for stretcher-bearers and from "D" Company some 500 yards to the rear, Pte. Low and Pte. Colbeck volunteered."

"Crawling from boulder to boulder, from hollow to hollow as they advanced up the slope, machine-gun fire was seen to concentrate upon them, they were caught in snipers' cross-fire, but still carried on."

"After advancing 150 yards, Pte. Colbeck was wounded. Pte. Low stopped in full view and fire of the enemy, dressed the wounds of his comrade, and then dragged him behind a small rock that allowed some cover."

"To his comrades, the further ad-

critical major war still remains on the list of unfinished business, will not be easy, Mr. Richardson stated.

MUST BEAT JAPAN
"There will be no peace in the world until Canada and all the Allies pour as much of their efforts into the defeat of Japan as they did into the defeat of Germany."

"The Japanese hope we will ease up, and they are seeking by their propaganda to make sure that we do. We should plan to put every ounce of effort into the Pacific war for two years after the defeat of Germany, and be ready to extend the time indefinitely," he stated.

"Moreover we should make it clear to Japan and to our Allies, Australia and New Zealand, that nothing will swerve us from this purpose. When the time comes we should put all our air power, all our sea power, and all our industrial and military power against Japan."

"Japan is still solidly entrenched in conquered territories. The Allies have inflicted relatively little damage upon her. I believe that the Allied propaganda line on the Pacific should be changed. We in Canada, and the Americans, too, have obtained an exaggerated notion of the true picture. The Japanese have helped this along from time to time by complaining from Tokyo."

HARDLY HURT

"Japan has been hardly hurt yet, much less deprived of any significant portion of its plunder of 1941 and 1942."

In the Pacific fighting the white man has shown himself as an individual soldier to be superior to the enemy. This is true of the Americans and it is true of the Australians.

The mountain-jungle fighting of New Guinea is the toughest in the world, and is often the job of stalking a sniper or a machine gun nest in thick vegetation.

BALANCE TO ALLIES

Dealing with air fighting, Mr. Richardson said that the balance

vance of this soldier could only end in a drawn death, but to their amazement he continued on toward the wounded men. German fire appeared to centre around him. Bullets were seen kicking up the dust along the line of his path, but Pte. Low, showing intense devotion to duty and conspicuous bravery, successfully crawled the remaining 300 yards and reached the wounded men.

"In the open and under what seemed to his platoon murderous fire, he dressed the wounds of each of the three in turn, found cover for them and carried and aided them to it. Such was the nature of the wounds of these men, that it was later found that their injuries would have been fatal without his assistance. Pte. Low having completed his task returned under the same continuous fire to "D" company and resumed his first aid work."

"Through the valor, conspicuous bravery and courage of Pte. Low, three wounded soldiers were rescued."

M15567 Pte. William Davies, 27, M.M., Loyal Edmonton Regiment, of Edmonton, Alberta:

"During the night of August 3, 1943, 'C' Company Loyal Edmonton Regiment, was attacking a high feature north of Regalbuto. The company was temporarily held up by heavy artillery, mortar and machine-gun fire, and wireless communications with battalion headquarters failed. It was essential to get a message to the commanding officer, who was away from his headquarters making a reconnaissance. Pte. Davies was detailed to contact the commanding officer."

"In carrying out his orders this soldier crossed and re-crossed an area under heavy, continuous enemy fire in his journey of over three miles. With great skill, determination and skillful use of ground, he delivered the message from his company commander and thus re-established communications."

"His skill and bravery under heavy fire was an inspiration to his company."

M15538, Pte. Stanley Melton, 24, M.M., Loyal Edmonton Regiment, of Edmonton, Alberta:

"On the evening of August 5, 1943, the Loyal Edmonton Regiment was attacking Mount Revisotto. Between the start line and their objective lay one-half mile of open, rugged, rocky, rising terrain swept by enemy artillery, mortar and machine-gun fire."

"During the advance the section of which Pte. Melton was the Bren gunner came under heavy fire from a German post, killing two and wounding others."

"This soldier then, on his own initiative and without thought of his own personal safety, manoeuvred himself 200 yards to the flank over bare rock in full view of the enemy post and under enemy fire."

"With unerring skill Pte. Melton, with his Bren gun, covered the enemy post so effectively that eight Germans were either killed or wounded and the section enabled to advance."

has swung heavily to the Allied side. The ratio of losses was one-to-one early in 1942. Now it is five to one in favor of the Allies. This is due to the sturdier construction of allied aircraft, in comparison to the Zero.

The present run of Japanese pilots does not compare with their first-string pilots of 1942. The American pilots are better trained and more battle-wise. The Australians have taken this kind of air fighting in their stride, and while they have respect for the Jap pilot, they are sure they can knock him out of the sky.

Turgeon Asserts People's Welfare Must Come First

QUEBEC, Jan. 21.—(CP)—James Gray Turgeon, member of parliament for Carleton Place, B.C., and president of the post-war reconstruction committee of the House of Commons, yesterday told 600 delegates at the 28th annual meeting of the Canadian Construction Association here, that "those who favor the capitalist system and private enterprise will have to think less of profits and a little more of the well-being of the population during the post-war period."

He said that after the war "soldiers, airmen and sailors who have ventured their lives for us will never consent to live in the conditions that prevailed before the war" and asked for a greater co-operation between "industry and labor and agriculture and industry."

During the Battle of Britain, the water supply system was so well maintained that no cases of typhoid occurred. And in spite of crowding shelters, there was no increase of disease.

Canucks in Fierce Attack Regard Return as 'Miracle'

By DOUGLAS AMARON

Start Made on Alternate Air Line to Alaska

For Canadian airmen using planes with skis or floats since 1929. Other fields will be constructed at chosen points in Yukon Territory and Alaska. The new route will be alternative to the Edmonton-Whitehorse course, and may be used when weather conditions further west are poor.

Float-equipped planes: carried material and supplies to the Canadian survey parties last summer and fall, and it is expected this work will be completed early this year. With the survey reports at hand, arrangements for construction of the fields are expected to go forward.

Construction of other airfields along the Mackenzie river have been undertaken by United States army personnel or their contractors, and authorities said they believed work on the extension probably also would be a United States undertaking.

BUILT BY CANADA

The Northwest Staging Route was built by Canada at a cost of $25,000,000 but has been used extensively by United States machines since 1941.

Until 1942, air traffic down the Mackenzie was carried by float or ski planes. When the United States decided to proceed with the Canol project, involving construction of a pipeline from Fort Norman oil wells to Whitehorse, the need arose for airplanes carrying far greater payloads to augment water shipments down the river.

Twin-engined, wheel aircraft were decided on as the most suitable carriers and landing facilities were provided at Fort McMurray, Embarras, Fort Smith, Fort Resolution, Hay River, Fort Providence, Mills Lake, Fort Simpson, Wrigley, Narrows, Wells, Camp Canol, Peace River, Metis and Upper Hay River Post.

A cut-off route running between Peace River, in Alberta and Mills Lake in the Northwest Territories, used mainly during the winter months, is included in the scheme.

STARTED IN 1942

In a review of Canadian-United States joint defence undertakings, the Wartime Information Board said that construction of the airports on the southern reaches of the Mackenzie began on May 15, 1942. No information was given out on the program until it was practically completed, as security reasons were involved.

Fantastic Bids Made at Nancy Oakes' Auction

NASSAU, Bahamas, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Fantastic prices were paid yesterday at the auction of household articles and objects of art from the home of Alfred and Nancy Oakes de Marigny.

A five-shilling washbasin brought 50 shillings (about $11) and a second-hand bicycle went for £25 (about $112) in spirited bidding. Nancy, daughter of the slain Sir Harry Oakes, was left between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000 in his will, but funds are tied up by exchange controls and she arranged to close her Nassau home and sell more than 400 articles to the highest bidder to raise needed cash.

She announced she would remain here until Monday to continue negotiations to obtain the release of money which she said she requires for living expenses and an operation for an ailing jaw.

Lady Oakes, Nancy's mother, arrived by air yesterday on her first visit to Nassau since she testified at the trial of her son-in-law, Alfred de Marigny, who was acquitted of a charge of slaying the Canadian gold mining millionaire.

Slav "Annie Oakley," 17, Has Killed 52 Germans

By JOHN F. CHESTER

SOMEWHERE IN EGYPT, Jan. 21.—(AP)—A 17-year-old Dalmatian girl who says she killed 52 Germans and she doesn't know how many Italians in two years of fighting near her home, has been quickly nicknamed by Allied soldiers stationed at a camp of Yugoslav refugees here.

To the soldiers she is "Annie Oakley of Split."

Her real name is Anka, which translated means Annie, and she is one of the most colorful personalities in this tented desert camp set up as the first haven in the Middle East for war-stricken Yugoslavs.

A short, stocky youngster with curly dark hair, Anka had fought continuously with the guerrillas in the neighborhood of Split since she was 15 years old, the age all eligible Partisan children join the army.

Most of the other refugees also are from the Dalmatian region and their tattered clothing and pale faces bespeak the hardships of continually fighting and dogging the Germans since 1941.

They have earned the praise of relief officials as the best disciplined and most easily handled group of refugees ever to arrive in the Middle East.

The most striking point about them is their highly developed political and social consciousness, especially among the committee of five men who came along to govern the group. The committee members, whose ages range between 23 and 47 years, were allowed to leave Yugoslavia because they no longer are fit for military service.

Asked whether they were communists, the committee members answered almost in unison that they definitely were not. They predicted a post-war Yugoslav federal government made up of at least five states, Serbia, Cro-

350 Jap Warplanes Bagged In Pacific Since November 20

MUNDA, New Georgia, Solomons, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Maj.-Gen. Ralph Mitchell, commander of Allied Air Forces in the Solomons, said in an interview after Monday's raid on Rabaul, New Britain, that his planes have destroyed 350 enemy aircraft since the current offensive began last Nov. 20.

His staff estimated Solomons-based planes sank or greatly damaged 100,000 tons of enemy shipping in the last two Rabaul raids. Mitchell said an enormous increase in barge activity was indicative of the enemy's increased shipping distress.

"Just before the latest raid, reconnaissance showed more than 400 barges in Rabaul harbor," he said.

Think Big

...when you plan for Canada's future

MAKE no little plans when you think of Canada's future. Think of fine, gracious, healthy cities... of a smiling, prosperous countryside... think of new highways, broad and straight... of modernized railroads... of new airways. Think of new centres of recreation and culture... of enlarged universities and new schools... new libraries... new parks and arenas. Think of a greater, a worthier nation.

For Canada, when this war is ended, will stand on the threshold of a splendid and challenging opportunity. The need will be there, the time will be ripe, for vast, unprecedented development. Willing hands will be there a-plenty, accumulated wealth will be there, national resources and the power to convert them to the general good will be there. Let us plan courageously when we figure out Canada's future.

Let us plan for lovelier, more labour-saving homes... plan for spacious and beautiful towns.

Let us plan for wider, safer highways, well-graded and well-lit... for modernized railroads, for greater electrification... for new bridges, new clover-leaves. Let us plan the spread of rural electrification until its benefits reach every farm and every hamlet.

Let us plan with vision for a richer cultural life. Let us plan new centres of science and art... colleges, laboratories, dramatic-centres, galleries. Let us plan, for leisure and health, new open spaces in our cities and towns... new sports bowls... new swimming pools. Let us plan the modernization of our factories, offices and stores—by re-equipment and reorganization... let us plan for lighter work yet greater productivity... for increased speed yet greater safety.

Let us plan for fuller living, greater opportunity, economic security.

While there must not be the slightest relaxation of our all-out efforts to win the war—we must plan and we must start planning now. We have had our lesson in unpreparedness. We must not gamble with peace as we gambled with war.

Many governmental, municipal and industrial groups already are planning. Many individuals are planning. But not enough. More planning, much more planning is needed. Whether we are homeowners, business operators, farmers, civic leaders—let us all plan for Canada's postwar future... let us plan with confidence, with courage—

For by planning today, we prepare ready-made markets for tomorrow—markets which will absorb our fullest productive effort, thus creating full and gainful employment for everyone.

Blood Donors

The rumor is current in Edmonton that some employers are opposed to their employees taking time out to donate blood to the Red Cross. It is said that a few employers have indicated that if any of their workers wish to become blood donors they will have to do it on their own time and suffer a salary deduction for the time they are absent from their work.

This is hard to believe. In fact, one is compelled by common sense and ordinary faith in human nature to conjecture that if this attitude has been taken by some employers their number is very small indeed. On the contrary, the evidence is that most employers are glad to co-operate wholeheartedly in a campaign that means the difference between life and death for our Canadian boys in the fighting forces. If, however, there are any who take this amazing and non-cooperative stand, they should exercise great care to prevent their names becoming known to the public, which is not in the mood to tolerate much of that sort of thing now that the casualty lists have begun to appear.

A Lost Division

Mr. Anthony Eden has lodged another protest with General Franco because a Spanish division is among the Hitler forces on the Russian front. Nothing is likely to come of the protest immediately. It is rather doubtful that Franco could get his troops back now if he wanted to, for if they are not caught in a Russian trap they are certainly surrounded by Nazis—and Hitler is in no mood to part with several thousand men who can be made to stop a gap in his line.

It is equally doubtful that Franco would recall these troops if he could, for his sympathies are with the Axis and he is not afraid of the Allies taking forceful measures to back up their demand. He has played both ends against the middle to keep himself in power, thus far successfully, and will probably keep on doing so as long as the Allies tolerate his non-belligerent hostility. The Spanish "volunteers" may as well count themselves a lost division, for their chances to get back to sunny Spain are remote. They were presented to Hitler as a token of Franco's loyalty, to be "expended" in the cause Franco hoped would win but has not courage enough to fight for.

The Duty of Parliament

Legislation by order-in-council is sometimes necessary. When not dictated by urgent conditions it is a mistake, because repugnant to democratic methods and ideas. An instance in point is the epidemic of protests that has broken out against the recent order "freezing" wages. A good case can be made out for a stand-pat wage law in wartime, since the soldier's wages are set by law, and since rising wages entail rising prices and start inflationary "spirals." But because the stabilizing was done by order-in-council it has aroused hostility aside altogether from its merits.

Had this question been threshed out in parliament and the regulating done by enactment, there could be no ground of objection except to the content and effect of the measure itself. Further, as the purpose would have been fully discussed before the law came into effect, there would be less disposition to challenge its necessity and advisability. The authority of parliament makes legislation acceptable to democratic people whether they like it or not. An order-in-council operates in precisely the opposite direction.

An announcement would be timely, and would be widely welcomed, that the wage order will operate only until parliament at the approaching session can deal with the subject. That would prevent any inflationary trend in the meantime; but would place responsibility for maintaining stability in future where it properly belongs—on the members of parliament.

Day Nurseries

Mayor John Fry has reported that negotiations are proceeding between the City and the Provincial Government towards the establishment of day nurseries in Edmonton. It is suggested that the Provincial Government proposes to set up a committee to investigate the need for these nurseries, the costs of operation, and the number of children to be accommodated. In view of the fact that these factors have already been fairly well surveyed, it may not be amiss to observe that the need is rather for direct and quick action than for more investigation.

Under the Dominion-Provincial agreement, the plan is to provide three separate services for the children of mothers who are working. These services are: (1) Care before school; (2) a noon meal, and (3) care after school.

A survey conducted through the kindness of the Edmonton Public School Board, necessarily very sketchy and incomplete, revealed that 78 mothers needed care before school for 123 children, 205 mothers needed a noon meal for 330 children, and 145 mothers needed care after school for 250 children.

These figures are a bare minimum. The actual figure may well be four times as much in each instance.

It seems, then, that the need for day nurseries is more than well established. Most people will agree that the post hardly enters into the picture when an essential war service is in view. It should be known, however, that the cost of these day nurseries in the East has been negligible.

No one expects responsible authorities to rush into any project blindfolded. But this matter has been discussed so long, and so much information has already been adduced that the public generally, or that section of the public acquainted with the situation, is naturally a little impatient over these further unnecessary delays.

As to Monopolies

Mr. Coldwell says Canada is probably the most "monopoly-ridden" country in the world. Wherefore he proposes to make it completely monopoly-ridden. For the many monopolies which he says are exploiting the public he would substitute one big monopoly, the State, armed with legislative power, nation-wide in its field of operation, and unlimited as to the directions in which its monopolistic powers should be exercised.

No person is unaware of the exactions which monopolies sometimes impose. But there are limits to their opportunities and powers when they are privately-owned. Where such a monopoly exists it exists only because the law of the land permits it to exist. If it charges undue prices that is because the law-makers do not exercise their power to regulate prices. The privately-owned monopoly is not a law-making body. It can't compel people to buy its products or do without, for parliament or the legislatures can step in and curb its activities.

A State monopoly is subject to no such controls or limitations. Its grip is absolute, as in Russia, Germany, or Italy. It is not subject to legal regulation in the interests of the public, because the power that holds the monopoly also makes the laws, sets the rates for service or goods, bars competition by legislation.

Mr. Coldwell's remedy would be several times worse than the disease it could be. If there are privately-owned monopolies which deal unfairly with the public, parliament and the legislatures hold the authority to prevent them doing so. But there would be no authority to which the public could look for protection against a State monopoly, however incompetent or tyrannical it might be.

Prime Minister Churchill is said to have reached agreement with General de Gaulle on the subjects of French participation in the war and the interim authority to be set up as French territory is liberated. It is to be hoped the report is true. There has been need of an understanding with the General, as shown on more than one occasion by statements and actions which suggested a Napoleonic pose on his part.

Anti-Semitism Being Fostered

Pegler Charges Newspaper With Attempt to Make Trouble

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
NEW YORK—I do not profess to know Marshall Field's motives of whooping up and, I think, greatly exaggerating such anti-Semitic activity and feeling as may exist in New York and Boston but nobody is obliged to believe that he is doing this out of sympathy for victims of persecution or out of honest abhorrence of wrong, and I don't.

On the contrary, I insist that Mr. Field, through the medium of his snarling little New York publication, which follows the pattern of certain European papers, is one of the most dangerous anti-Semitic influences in the United States. As far as I know, although Hitler used many avenues of attack on the Jew in Germany, bold, brutal and subtle, he never hit upon the device of pretending to love them and turning sentiment against them by giving violent offense on their behalf. Mr. Field is fabulously rich and only recently turned to journalism and ostensibly good works after a life not particularly distinguished by interest in public affairs, unless horse racing could be so regarded. If he were secretly determined to arouse hatred of the Jews and escape the blame that is laid upon the familiar type of Jew-baiter, he could go far and, whatever his intentions, he already has.

Field's publication from the very beginning has contained a cell of reporters, writers and editors who are either communists or so much like communists that they could easily pass for comrades, and this championship of the Jews and this exaggeration of petty scraps between kids appearing in a paper with the peculiar editorial slant and the provocative manner of the Field press, irresistibly causes some people to associate communism with Jewishness, which was exactly what Hitler did to make non-Jewish anti-communists hate all Jews, including the anti-communists. And, although some of his friends try to excuse him on the ground that he is just an innocent millionaire who is belated years to do good, I do not believe he can be so dumb that he does not know that the blackguardism thus committed also tends to beloud reason and arouse resentment against the very people that he purports to defend.

As Joseph Medill Patterson remarked in an editorial in the Daily News, it is fatuous to pretend that racial and religious prejudices do not exist among the American people; but usually they are kept in the background, and they are still under control in New York and I have reason to believe, in Boston, too. Decret has seemed to be the center of the nastiest feeling, for there I have heard a number of smug motor industrialists, including some mouthy bores who don't hold their liquor any too well, make entirely unprovoked cracks against Jews in general. I would attribute this in part to the influence of Henry Ford's old Dearborn Independent and in part to Charles E. Coughlin, although in justice to Mr. Ford I should say that in the course of a visit of several hours a couple of years ago I heard him make several gratuitous remarks which expressed a generous, Christian attitude toward Jews. But in New York, Christian and Jew have managed to rock along very well together up to now and it is no service to the Jews or the community as a whole to cry pogrom every time some Jewish kid gets

Whiskey is Scarce

By I. N. S.

The Ottawa Journal

When Progressive Conservative Premier George Drew retained Liberal office-holder A. St. Clair Gordon as chairman of the Liquor Control Board of Ontario Mr. Gordon might well have been happy and proud.

Today, with the liquor situation getting no better quickly, he is neither happy nor proud. He feels every day as you feel when someone brings five friends to your cocktail party and there's only one finger left in the gin bottle.

I confronted Mr. Gordon in his office today to get the story of drink. He has a large office with a long conference table and 12 chairs stretching in front of his desk. It was the first time in weeks all 12 hadn't been filled with dry and clamoring mouths.

Mr. Gordon, prematurely and understandably grey at 49, began with the air of a tired man counting sheep. "We have 1,200,000 permit holders—which is more than half of the 2,265,000 people in the province entitled to buy permits."

"I can't tell you how many more people are buying liquor than used to before the war, because then we had the 25-cent permits and people bought them over and over. But just look around you at the people with money ideas of liquor today and you have a long way to go in the market. It is like comparing the strength of our 1938 armed forces with our armed forces today."

"Then there's our reduced supply. We may take out of bond only 70 percent of what we took out in 1942. That's a Dominion Government regulation."

"Put these facts together and you see us trying to spread less over a wider area. But—it is worse than that."

"In 1943 we sold 2,100,000 gallons of spirits, plus perhaps 600,000 gallons that we had as a left-over or inventory from 1942."

"In 1944 we will have very little inventory and on the 70 percent basis will have only about 1,470,000 gallons to sell. The public is going to get much less, that much less. We've reached the bottom of our reserve barrels."

This seemed a bit tall. I asked if it meant rationing would be further reduced from 26 ounces to 13, or what variation of the five loaves and two fishes miracle did he plan.

"I don't think we'll reduce the ration to 13, but we may. We can't accurately judge how much everyone will purchase. Obviously if everyone sought his limit we would be unable to meet the demand. Would the shoe stores in Ottawa be able to sell everyone in Ottawa a pair of shoes this month?"

"We may have to operate on store quotas, like the candy shops. Give every store a ration and have it close when that is sold."

"This would mean first come first served. It wouldn't guarantee 26 ounces to all comers, but would give that much to all who applied, so long as the stock lasted. After that—nothing. I know; that seems tough. But it is a hopeless situation any way you look at it. And here's the rub for me. You're only asking me about hard liquor. But the tighter this situation becomes the greater the demand on beer and domestic wines, and I'm the goat here, too. But let's not bring those into this discussion or we'll get bogged down completely."

Mr. Gordon's sense of humor may see him through this job. Nothing else will.

"Our sales in dollars in 1943," he resumed, "were 15 percent higher instead of 30 percent lower. Thanks chiefly to that inventory left-over I told you about. But from here on—it looks like a drought."

Almost apologetically I asked how it was Quebec still had a ration of 80 ounces. The answer is a combination of these reasons:

(1) The increase in number of purchasers is much greater in Ontario, but both provinces have to reduce gross sales by 30 percent.

(2) Quebec people buy more Canadian beer and wines, leaving more "hard stuff" for those that want it.

(3) There is more loose "war and war industry" money in Ontario wanting to buy liquor just as there is a greater "war and war industry" payroll.

(4) Quebec used to sell much more 65 percent overproof alcohol (for whiskey blanc) and now that the Dominion Government has reduced all to what is called 75 degrees to spirit level, Quebec has more alcohol from the base period in 1942 (or comparison period) to spread more thinly today. (This is somewhat confused but it is an important factor in the question nevertheless!)

(5) It is generally believed that only a small portion of Quebec buyers get their 80 ounces. If very many tried the figure would collapse.

About this time Mr. Gordon's phone rang a third time, a long distance problem about a building permit. The others were about a priority on power for a factory, and a labor shortage in another plant. Talk about war casualties! If this Liberal doesn't soon decide to let some Conservative carry this a poke in the nose in an ordinary schoolyard scrap.

Some of Mr. Field's intimate associates tell me that I have got the guy all wrong and that his Chicago paper, The Sun, and not this New York thing of his, is the true expression of his journalism. The Sun being much different and not given to the violent crusades of his New York voice. That is a pretty serious thing to say about a man with a fortune as large as his who has gone into the publishing business on two fronts. It seems to mean that the power of his fortune is being used by others to create a dangerous division between Christians and Jews in New York who don't want trouble and would get along fine if left alone. At any rate, the responsibility goes straight to Marshall Field and if he hasn't the intelligence and conscience to refrain from exerting the power of his money to this effect, he shouldn't be in the publishing business, although, of course, this is not to suggest that he ought to be suppressed.

If anyone wonders whether I question Mr. Field's motives the answer is yes, I do, I do not know what his motives are.

Bank Fires the First Big Gun

Philpott Writes Reply to Attack on Parties of Reform

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

The Vancouver Sun

The president of the Royal Bank has fired the first of the financial big guns at the C.C.F., Labor Progressives, and Social Credit. For some months now the Bankers' Association has been broadcasting radio advertisements couched in intemperate language—all designed to scare the ordinary citizen about what might happen to his deposits if and when those nasty Socialists come to power.

But nothing thus expressed can compare with the following for irresponsible statement:

"Implementation of the Socialist plan would ruin this generation, and set Canada back centuries."

So speaks Mr. Morris W. Wilson, the advertising private banker of this Canadian generation. If we get this intemperate kind of statement from the ablest, most responsible, and most level-headed of the St. James Street leaders, it requires little imagination to guess what will be emitted by the less scrupulous among the chore-boys of the financial group.

In paid advertisements published in all Canadian newspapers, Mr. Wilson "challenges Socialists to show how public would benefit by state monopoly of banking." That challenge has its amusing side. It is like the famous election demand, "Have you stopped beating your wife?"

There is, of course, no genuine and complete Socialist party in existence on a national scale in Canada today. And apart from doctrines, theories and tags, neither the C.C.F., the Labor Progressives nor the Social Crediters stands for "state monopoly of banking." All three parties do stand for drastic changes in the financial system. There are distinct differences in the programs of these existing Canadian political parties which are opposed to the old financial order, for which Mr. Wilson speaks. But all parties demanding fundamental change—C.C.F., Labor Progressive and Social Credit—agree on one principle at least: That is, that money and credit are near the very core of the social problem of our times.

Unless the banking system is operated first and foremost to serve the whole nation, it fails in its primary purpose. The existing financial structure in Canada does not adequately serve the nation as a whole—in good times and bad, in peace as in war. Rather—not entirely but primarily—the class and group interests of big business and high finance.

The existing financial system in Canada, of which the chartered banks are a part, makes all production and all distribution pass through the bottleneck of private profit. Thus there is "no money" in times of depression.

Those who favor a changed banking system as part of a better social order would smash this bottleneck by making the banking system serve two purposes—instead of one, as now:

The new purpose would be to provide all necessary public credits for public purposes—regardless of whether or not some private interest could make a rake-off on the transaction.

No man's arguments are better than his facts. Mr. Wilson's facts are open to question. He states, for instance, of the C.C.F.:

"One of their first objectives is to nationalize the banks." Point 2 of the Reginald program of the C.C.F.—the fundamental party document—calls for "socialization of all financial machinery... the private banks must be socialized..."

There are at least ten ways in which the banks could be "socialized" without being "nationalized." There is no party in Canada which calls for "state monopoly of banking." What is called for is the reverse—the smashing of the private monopoly.

Harbingers of Spring Are Most Brilliantly Colored

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

Though you may not sew a particularly fine seam, the new spring woollens and printed dress goods will bring out the seamstress in you. If you are an old hand with scissors, patterns and sewing machine, you will know exactly what to do to turn out a casual wool suit or a print dress.

Many women are making their own clothes this year. And the herringbone, doeskin and sheer wool fabrics on display in the stores offer plenty of inspiration. You will be tempted too by the celanese and rayon prints shown in a profusion of new patterns and novel designs, as well as by the gay cottons.

Patents

Kingston Whig-Standard

Attention has been called to one of the little publicized aspects of war by the announcement from Washington that Great Britain and the United States are trading patents.

An agreement to this effect has been in force for two years, and will continue for another. Its purpose is to allow the free interchange of all new inventions which might help the war effort either directly or indirectly. It is a splendid example of the quiet co-operation which is going on between the great powers.

It is the greatest patriot of them all. We beelied off, our story incomplete, but convinced that if anyone has been advised to lay off liquor for a spell, this year and the next will be good years to do it!

this year. Others in the brilliant spring colors are persimmon red, glowing sapphire, bright emerald, royal blue and pastels. Some of the fabrics take their color names from current history, such as Coral Sea pink, Bengali yellow, and a sandy shade called Beachhead.

Embroidery Touches

It is a paradox of our time that when all hands are needed for the war effort, fashion gives us clothes with more exquisite handwork than we have seen in decades.

There are several reasons. One is the trend to femininity; second, the fabric conservation stressed by the government has caused designers to turn to hand embroidery, crochet, and beading to give clothes the dressiness they require while adhering to fabric limitations. Also, women have found pleasure in this return to fine dressmaking.

There are many types of embroidery used. Beausais-type embroidery, in massed colors and white, trims some of our dark woolls. Cut-out embroidery is used on the less expensive clothes. Top designers resort to hand-drawn work of exquisite quality to glorify sheer rayon crepes, or twist loop fringe of the fabric to edge the bodice and hem of some of the loveliest of dress-up dresses.

Women are enthusiastic about the use of hand-detailed for it recalls the sentimental era at the turn of the century. It appears most dramatically when in white on navy or black, or on spring's newest favorite, brown.

Feminine Look

It is a psychological urge of woman today to look and dress as feminine as possible. The military trimness which marked the fashion at the war's start has almost disappeared. Women now want to be the dream girl their men at the front like to recall.

Fashion responds with dresses that are exquisitely simple. Bodices are wrapped surplice style, or they are cut with low round necklines, ruffle edges, or draped softly at the shoulder. Skirts are slim, though draped with soft fullness in front or with a cascading ruffle at the side.

Colorful

The new prints adapt the abbreviated look of this winter's short dinner dresses. The sleeves are very short, and often a shadow roll or a wing extension on the bodice is enough. Trimming is kept to a minimum; usually an applique of the print or a touch of lace is all that is required.

There is news in the diversity of fabric patterns, and in the gay colors splashed across soft muted grounds. Some of the prettiest prints are the pale greys and beiges with white animals. Miniature black lace fans on beige or pale blue make a demure pattern, as do the ruffled, lace parasols on pastel tones. One novelty pattern has small world globes encircled and wound with telephone cable wire printed on black crepe. In others crimson palette and paint brushes splatter a dark background, and knitting needles piercing a ball of yarn make white figures on rust color.

The celanese jerseys have an appeal of their own. Here is where you will find the right fabric for a dress that will give service from now through the summer months. Huge, brilliant tropical flowers splashed on white make most of the jersey prints.

The colorful bolts of material at the yard goods counters will make you pause and want to take your needle in hand.

"I want a book explaining military strategy, politics, ration regulations and inflation—not too big to put into my handbag!"

States Liberals To Make Canada "Leading" Nation

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Senator Wishart M. Robertson of Halifax told University of Manitoba students yesterday that the Liberal Party was equipped to carry the war to a conclusion and make Canada into a leading post-war nation. Senator Robertson, president of the National Liberal Federation, said that of the 44 United Nations in the Allied group, four would play leading parts and the remainder may look to Canada in the future as a nation which has no imperial aims and one which knows the meaning of freedom.

He said the Senate had a moral and binding contract to protect the smaller provinces, adding that he personally would not vote for its abolition unless there was specific evidence that Nova Scotia wanted it. Senator Robertson represents that province in the Senate.

Members Protest British, U.S. Army Disparity in Pay

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(CP)—A member's proposal in the house of commons yesterday that British and American soldiers be paid from a pool to correct inequalities was greeted by the cry from an M.P. "Do you want to start another war?" The disparity in pay of British and American troops, long a topic of controversy and resentment among less paid British servicemen, was aired by a group of parliament members who urged the government to review the situation. W. J. Brown, Independent, said there was "grave feeling in the British armed forces" over the disparity and Capt. Leonard F. Plugge, Conservative, suggested a common pool for the payment of British and American troops. The idea was not elaborated.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW

by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

THE greatest handicap which has confronted Edmonton junior hockey teams ever since the Arena was "lost" is lack of games—even forgetting entirely practice opportunities—and that fact is brought home even more forcibly this season due to the exceptionally late start.

Canadians and E.A.C. to date have played five league games, while the Navy, third entry in the circuit, has only figured in four. Compare this, for example, with the position of the teams in the O.H.A. junior loop.

In group 1, the Oshawa club (leading St. Mike's by four points right now) has played 16 games, of which incidentally, 14 were wins. St. Michael's College has played 15 (12 wins), Hamilton 16 (8 wins, 1 draw), Toronto Marlboros 17 (6 wins), and Young Rangers 17 (1 win).

In group 2, Galt, at present tied for the top with St. Catharines, both having 22 points, has played 18. Figures for the other teams are: St. Catharines 17 (10 wins, 2 draws), Port Colborne 18 (8 wins), Stratford 15 (6 wins), Brantford 16 (4 wins). It is accordingly little to be wondered that eastern teams are able to go when the playoffs roll around.

ANDY LIKES THE NEW "VOICE"

SPEAKING OF Fred Huber, the six-foot-four gentleman who succeeded volatile Tommy Emmett as the "voice" or "mouthpiece" of the Detroit Red Wings—officially termed the club's public relations counsel—Andy Lytle, of the Toronto Star, has the following to say: "Huber has one job to do and he does it very well. When Huber became Detroit's hockey voice he substituted howdy for rowdy. He came into the picture entertaining certain ideals and he has not departed therefrom. He believes hockey is a game for nice-mannered folk and if Jack Adams has softened in his public and press contacts of late, score an assist for Huber.

"All of Huber's hockey activities are patterned upon his design for living which is epitomized in the soft answer and the avoidance of wrath. Huber is meticulously painstaking, precise and exceedingly courteous in all he undertakes. He is one of the few of those actively associated with the N.H.L. who, by department make it clear they are gentlemen as well as good sportsmen, win, lose or draw."

HERE AND THERE

CONNIE DION, the "Asbestos Kid" picked up by "Jaw" Adams for a song, rounded out a nice four game performance for Detroit last night, when the Red Wings got under the wire just in front of the Black Hawks. A draw with Canadiens, then 6-4 and 4-1 over the Toronto Leafs last week-end, along with Thursday's 4-3 win, gives the goalie from Asbestos, Que., who indeed shows every evidence of being non-inflamable, a neat result so far.

The game arranged for the Canadian Athletic Club against Saskatoon Lions, scheduled for Lloydminster a week Saturday, will give Coach Joe Brown a golden opportunity to see just how his team functions on strange ice against another top-flight junior club.

Stan Moher, director of athletics at the University of Alberta has his three-team interfaculty hockey loop in high gear these days, with Med-Dents cutting the current pace. Earl Samis, who has been doing a grand job, to say nothing of plenty of work for Maple Leaf Club juveniles, mid-levels and bantams, did not appear to be worried at all over the 4-3 and first set-back pinned onto his juveniles by the E.A.C. boys last night.

Basketball fans will have a first class double bill attraction to check out at Westglen this evening. Currie Barracks cagers are coming to Edmonton very highly recommended but they'll have to be good to hold the U.S. Engineers, leaders of the city men's circuit and who have been consistent in putting the skids under the opposition all season.

Rickey Is Ready to Fight For "Chain-Store" Ball

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Branch Rickey, a man of many words, left a lot of things unsaid at a press conference Thursday but he also said enough to convince a group of reporters that he is ready to put up a fight for "chain-store" baseball if it becomes necessary.

U.S. Air Corps Wins by 48 to 35 Over Nonsuchers

Taking a big lead in the early part of the game, U.S. Army Air Corps without a final quarter drive by H.M.C.S. Nonsuch to register a 48-35 victory in their Inter-Service Basketball league fixture, played at A.O.S. on Thursday night.

Air Corps held a 27-5 lead at the end of the first half, but Navy outscored the Army boys in the two last quarters.

Coach Trevor Davies played an outstanding game for Nonsuch, being particularly effective on long shots, and his total of 19 points was high for the night. Bruce Hembling, also of Navy, made 10.

Cornwell led the U.S. team with 10, while Mayer was second with 9 and Loy, Wheeler and Panvini netted eight each.

Air Corps played a smoother passing game and had a higher shooting accuracy percentage.

Colville's Wheelers Lead Garrison Loop

Sailor Men Are Swamped By 9-1 Count

RED DEER, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Red Deer Army Wheelers broke a three-team first-place deadlock in the newly-named Alberta Garrison Hockey League here Thursday night with a convincing 9-1 victory over Calgary Tecumseh-Mustangs. More than 2,000 persons saw the game.

The Calgary club minus its air force players due to the recent ruling which allowed Airmen to play only one game every two weeks, held the Sgt. Mac Colville-coached Wheelers to three goals in the first period and one in the second but the Army club smashed through for five in the final 20 minutes.

Red Deer now has 10 points, two more than Calgary 10. Currie Barracks and Tecumseh-Mustangs. Pies, Eddie Slowinski, Jack Forsey and Warren Stewart each scored two goals and two assists for the Wheelers while Pies, Eddie O'Keefe and Bud Emery and Cpl. George Pargeter each notched one.

Navy's goal was scored by writer Joe Shannon on a pass from AB. Ah. McDougall.

Play was ragged in the first period with O.S. Sweeney Schriener, former Toronto Maple Leaf star, the outstanding player on the ice.

The shifty centre worked in close for shots on Pies. Jim Henry in the Red Deer nets but the ex-New York Ranger goalkeeper kept him off the scoresheet.

The second period also was ragged but the Wheelers came to life in the third session after Stewart scored the club's fifth goal from the face-off at centre ice.

The Navy defense was weak throughout and the Wheelers worked close in for their other goals.

B.P.C. Takes Second Straight

Hospital Cagers Win 43-36 Over Varsity in Men's League

U.S. Station Hospital shoved varsity deeper into the "A" section cellar of the Edmonton Men's Basketball League Thursday night when they defeated the University team 43-36 in the second game at Westglen. Bechtel, Price, Callahan won their second straight in "B" division by overcoming North West Division 28-25 in the first fixture.

Leonard Wooding and Warren Laubee paced the Hospital squad, the former being high scorer with 14 points and Laubee hooping 10, while John McInnis, Ray Steed and Jack Switzer divided evenly 24 of Varsity's 36 to top the latter's marksmen.

The winners showed a decided edge in the first and third quarters and played good enough ball in the other two sessions to gain their victory although they only outshot the losers by five, 63-58.

Varsity opened the scoring when Sammy Shekter dropped in a field goal from about 15 feet out, but Wooding tallied two baskets and Laubee did the same. Marlon Keifer also added a pair of counters to put Hospital ahead 10-2 midway in the opening frame.

The U.S. club marked up six more points—Taubee getting four and Phil Lark two—while Varsity collected a pair of field goals fired by McInnis and Steed, in the remainder of the first 10 minutes to hold a 15-6 lead going into the second stanza.

Hospital, with Taubee on the sidelines, could do no better than hold their own in the second session, both teams chalking up 14 markers to make the scoreboard read 29-20 at the half way mark.

They held their lead through the canto though and at one time were ahead by 14, 27-13.

The winners increased their margin in the third quarter, adding eight. Nick Smagula, Lark, Wooding and Keifer each hooping two, while they held the students to five, tallied by McInnis, Shekter and Switzer.

With Hospital ahead 37-25 going into the final, Varsity put on the pressure and Steed counted four, Switzer three and McInnis and Shekter two each to out-score the victors 11-6, but the 12-point advantage the American club enjoyed at the three-quarter mark was too much for the University of Alberta squad.

With Leo Dolan scoring two free shots and one field basket and "Has" Bell adding one point, Bechtel, Price, Callahan overcame the North West Division team in the last minutes of the "B" section game last night to win 28-25.

With only four minutes remaining, N.W.D. was ahead 25-23, but Dolan counted on two foul shots to tie it up 25-25, Bell made it 26-25 and then Dolan, former playing coach of Air Transport Command dropped in a long shot with only 10 seconds to go to clinch the game for B.P.C.

"Chuck" Saffell led the winners with 12 points and Dolan with six, Jack Kenton with five, Gene Lepori with three and Bell with two were the other scorers for the winning team. Don Daynes with eight counters and Charlie Sanford and Bob Ferry with six each were top marksmen for the North West Club.

Liscombe Nets Winner

Goalie Dion in Spotlight As Wings Defeat Hawks 4-3

DETROIT, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The revived Detroit Red Wings, getting superlative performance at the finish from little goalie Connie Dion, defeated the Chicago Black Hawks 4-3 in a National Hockey League game here last night before 9,222 spectators. Carl Liscombe scored the winning goal in the third period.

Detroit, remaining unbeaten for the sixth game, piled up a 3-1 margin with a two-goal second period and made it 4-2 in the third period. With less than four minutes remaining, Fido, Purpur scored for the Hawks, who then stormed the Detroit nets in a desperate effort to tie the score. Dion, five-foot, five-inch rookie, kicked out eight shots in the last two minutes.

Mud Brunteau, Murray Armstrong and Adam Brown scored for Detroit before Liscombe's blistering 20-foot shot provided the winning margin. Cully Dahlstrom and Clint Smith got the other Chicago goals.

By stopping the Hawks, Dion also remained unbeaten in four National League starts since receiving his medical discharge from the Canadian Army.

The victory put the Wings half a game from the third-place Boston Bruins and dropped the Hawks deeper into the fifth place, which doesn't figure in the post-season play-offs.

While there were only two penalties, the game was rather rough. Virgil Johnson of Chicago and Bruneteau each suffered five-stitch wounds. Brown had three stitches and Earl Seibert of the Hawks two.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The greatest fighters in the history of boxing will emerge from the present war, says Lieut. Arthur Donovan of the U.S. Maritime service—America's most famous referee.

Donovan, who looks and talks like a refined Victor McLagen of the movies, says, "I never realized what a tough country this is until I began sizing up the kids who pass through our station. Of course we get the cream of the crop."

Donovan, whose family boxing ties stem from 1866, said last night, "When this war is over, the maritime service alone will give boxing the greatest natural-born fighters in the lightweight, welterweight, and middleweight classifications that I ever have seen. And I've seen plenty."

TEACHES FAST
DONOVAN, son of the great "Professor Mike" Donovan, bare-knuckle middleweight champion of the post Civil War days, marvels daily at the physical prowess of the thousands of young men who pass through his boxing machine every six weeks—chaps preparing to man the supply ships.

The referee, who was third man in the ring during 22 of heavy-weight champion Joe Louis' fights, hands the manly art in a hurry to the youngsters as they move through the U.S. maritime training station at Sheephead Bay, N.Y.

Donovan, who had 60 professional fights and was boxing instructor for years at the New York Athletic Club—in addition to his refereeing work—is a disc-jockey fellow. He knows his plug-uglies like a mother knows her children. Moreover, he has the poise of a structural steel worker; he is not given to slopping over.

NATURAL BORN FIGHTERS
BUT, he says, "you can thank the war for bringing all these tough kids out of hiding—and for starting them tossing leather, to which they take like geese to ponds. Of course we get the nation's best, because we're the only remaining volunteer service. Besides the best boys are attracted by the chance of making more money with us, despite the great hazards. They get those big bonuses for foreign assignments, and bigger ones for entering ports under attack."

"The tough kids come to us—the natural-born fighters—and it's a pleasure to give them a few boxing directions before they start whaling away at one another. They come from farming communities, logging camps and mining areas of which I never heard. But they've got the bodies and the belligerence that amazes me daily."

"I was beginning to believe that this country was softening up—that good fighters like the various divisional champions were rarities—were throwbacks to another generation. But I know it's not so now. We've got the toughest, fightingest kids I ever saw. The war has thrown them together. They're belting one another around now; and when this war is over the ring will have the greatest flock of grand fighting men it ever knew—even if they all have to come out of the maritime service."

V.M.D. May Withdraw

Coast Senior Hockey Clubs Are Facing Tough Problem

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—(CP)—The four-team Pacific Coast Senior Hockey League, patched together after the withdrawal of the Army and R.C.A.F. teams, shows signs of coming apart at the seams with only one game of the new schedule written off.

Last week Canadian Pacific Air Lines Lodestars of New Westminster appeared on the verge of withdrawal, then decided to keep on plugging. Now Victoria Machinery Dept. is wavering due to a player shortage, and may fold up after tonight's game at Victoria with Royal Canadian Navy.

If V.M.D. does withdraw, some of its players may come to Vancouver to bolster the St. Regis team, who then would be left to fight it out with Lodestars to determine the Coast representative in the Allan Cup playoffs. The Navy team is a potent contender but won't be taking part in the playoffs.

If the league can hang together long enough the civilian winner will tackle Trail Smoke Eaters to

Wolfe Reaches Challenge Final
Calgary 'Spiel

CALGARY, Jan. 21.—(CP)—At the conclusion of the 3 o'clock draw Thursday afternoon Len Haw, of the Glenora Club, Calgary, had the distinction of being the only undefeated skip in the 40th annual bonspiel of the Southern Alberta Branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club.

During the day Haw administered the first loss to W. Snodgrass of Okotoks; Glen Williams, Glenora Club, gave W. F. Fennell, of North Hill Club his first setback; Snodgrass caused the first setback for the J. O. Stewart rink of Macleod and Stewart made Frank Wolfe of the Edmonton Royal Curling Club defeat for the first time.

Bert Robertson of the Edmonton Granite Club, turned in three straight successes, winning over L.A.C. Greer, No. 11 Equipment Depot, Calgary, 10-6, beating Earl Gammon of Cochrane 14-8 and administering a trimming to Chas. Morrison of Nanton.

The Stewart-Wolfe game in the Alberta Pacific Grain event provided the large gallery with a demonstration of curling as it should be played. Ole Olson, skipping the Wolfe rink, had a chance to pull the game out of the fire on the tenth end, but was a trifle narrow and Stewart counted one to boost his margin to two, the final score being 10-8.

Frank Wolfe, Edmonton, and Len Haw, Calgary Glenora Club, will contest the finals of the Hudson's Bay Grand Challenge event. Wolfe scored a decisive victory over W. Snodgrass of Okotoks, the score being 12-8, while Haw defeated Glen Williams, also of the Glenora Club, 8-5, in the semi-finals during the 8:30 draw last night. Haw is the only unbeaten skip in the bonspiel, with a record of eight straight wins.

Finals of the Gas Co. competition will be played by L.A.C. Greer, No. 11 Equipment Depot, Calgary, and Capt. Porter, No. 2 Wireless School, Calgary. Greer defeated Carl Becker, Crossfield, 10-6, in the semi-finals, while Porter won against Bert Robertson, Edmonton, 7-5, to make it an all-Air Force final.

League Leaders Lose 4-3

E.A.C. Juveniles Stop Leafs; Canadians Tie South Side 2-2

A ONE-GOAL advantage secured in the middle period was sufficient to give the Edmonton Athletic Club hockey juveniles a 4-3 win over Maple Leafs at 119 street rink on Thursday night. In the other league game Canadians and South Side deadlocked at 2-2 at the Stadium rink, with no overtime being played.

Last night's was the first loss in five starts for the league-leading Maple Leafs. Trailing by three points are the E.A.C.'s with a total of five, while the Canadians have four, one better than South Side.

Terry Cavanagh, who scored three of the four goals for the winners, with Ron Lane drawing assists in all, gave E.A.C. the lead after three minutes in the first period. Mike Thomas evened the count on Christian's pass 10 minutes later.

Bob Manson put E.A.C.'s out in front again in the second period in the first minute and Cavanagh-Lane combine boosted the margin to 3-1, before Jim King got one back for Leafs just before the whistle.

Cavanagh from Lane and Thomas from Bud McPherson's rebound were the last period goal-getters. The Leaf power play in the final stages failed.

Capitals Beat Providence 3-1

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Indianapolis Capitals turned back Providence's Reds 3-1 last night for the third time in nine nights of American League hockey action.

A crowd of 3,272 watched the Capitals build up a 2-0 lead in the first two periods and then coast to victory. The defeat for Providence was its 21st and allowed the Reds to regain the dubious honor of being the "losingest" team in the league.

Writer Thinks Joe Louis Best Of All Champs

By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(AP)—We have just previewed a picture called "Kings of the Ring," a skeletonized history of 35 years of prize fighting.

The flickering saga deals mostly with the heavyweight ranks, and shows all champions in action from Tommy Burns to Joe Louis. Where they dug up that 1907 film of Burns knocking out Bill Squires is a mystery, but it isn't so bad, and Burns seemed to handle himself pretty well for a gent who usually is shrugged off as a sort of a cheese champion.

We came away with the idea that Joe Louis is the best of the lot. That is, the Joe Louis of the second Louis-Max Schmeling battle, when the bomber was a study in controlled, devastating fury.

Oddly enough, we also got the idea that of all the other champions shown—Burns, Jack Johnson, Jess Willard, Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, Max Schmeling, Jack Sharkey, Primo Carnera, Max Baer and Jim Braddock—Johnson would have caused Louis the most trouble.

Johnson was shown against an overstuffed middleweight, Stanley Ketchel, but despite Johnson's obvious physical advantages he left the impression of being able to take care of himself in any situation. The manner in which, after being knocked down in the 12th round, he leaped up and ended the fight with one punch, showed the tremendous resources of the man.

Dempsey is shown in several brawks. There is the tigerish Dempsey of the Louis Firpo contest. There is the determined but more plodding Dempsey of the two Tunney fights, with the brief, fleeting flare of the old fire as he knocked down Tunney for the long count.

For the most methodical job of artistic sharpshooting we think Tunney's job on George's Carpenter takes the prize.

An effort was made to include the highlights or disputed incidents in all the major bouts, and not many of these have been missed, from Schmeling winning the crown from Sharkey while resting on the seat of his pants to Tunney's long count.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Indications are the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association will attempt to carry on its Allan Cup playoffs this year despite withdrawal of all service clubs with the cream of the Dominion's amateur talent.

In Alberta, for instance, the only senior teams were from the services but Bob (Garry Herold) Mammie reports the C.A.H.A. is attempting to line up civilian challengers in Edmonton and Calgary for an Alberta final and subsequent cup play-offs. One of objects of negotiation is the Calgary Buffaloes team which won the Western Intermediate title last season. Buffaloes are chiefly a collection of ageing amateurs and reinstated professionals.

INCIDENTALLY:
In a discussion of hockey Hall of Fame candidates at Kingston, manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings subscribed to a selection of the seven outstanding centres of all time—Howie Morenz, Frank Nighbor, Cyclone Taylor, Frank McGehee, Joe Malone, Jack Walker, and Milt Schmidt.

There was no attempt to rank the seven in the order named. ... Red Dutton, N.H.L. managing director, has offered the Hall of Director Robertson also stated that all players should report at their respective rinks not later than 3:30 p.m. as sticks and uniforms will be distributed prior to the start of the games.

Following are the tentative lists for the various teams:

Aircraft: Repairs: Howard Burke, Terry Forrest, Doug Alloway, Jim Gayed, Dennis Mahoney, Grant Campbell, Bob Kilburn, Bob Julien, Don Robertson, K. McLean, Sandy Holmes, G. Rafter, K. Watt, Gordon Helden.

Fame several hockey relics, including small hockey stick autographs by Howie Morenz and the puck with which Nels Stewart scored his 300th big-time goal. Cyclone Taylor has offered to contribute a stick used in 1907 with names of the Ottawa team of that year burned into it.

Study Charter Amendments for Housing

Defer Definite Action Until Regular Meeting Of City Council Monday

Charter amendments to empower the city of Edmonton, without the assent of the burgesses, to expend in any year money for the purpose of establishing, maintaining and operating any municipal housing plan within the city which the council may decide to undertake, and to empower council to subscribe in cash, or otherwise, for shares in the capital stock of any association incorporated under the Alberta Building Associations Act, actively engaged in the construction of dwelling houses, were discussed at a special meeting of the council held Thursday afternoon.

Hart on Jasper, relating some of his experiences at Fort Smith to a friend; Bob Burton of Red Deer renewing acquaintances at 101 street and Jasper.

Latest military uniforms for Hungary are made from cloth spun from the fibres of nettles.

Following a lengthy discussion it was decided that action on the amendments be deferred until the regular meeting of the city council on Monday night.

A further amendment under consideration would limit the city's authority in obtaining funds for these building projects, only by special levy as provided by the city charter, or from any unappropriated surplus monies. This amendment would deny the city the right to borrow money by the issue and sale of debentures for a municipal housing plan, or to subscribe to the shares of any building association.

CHANGE ELECTIONS DATE

Council agreed that the annual election date be changed to the first Wednesday in November. It is now held on the Wednesday of the second week of that month. City Solicitor T. E. Garside, K.C., was instructed to apply for the necessary charter amendment to make the change in date.

Authorization was given also to a proposed charter amendment that would provide for the swearing in of bona-fide electors whose names have been omitted from the voters' lists. Previously only burgesses could obtain a certificate to vote if their names had been omitted.

The council authorized also an amendment to the charter be obtained to exclude 142 street, south of the river from the city. The city solicitor was instructed to make provision for a return of this street to within the city limits if a bridge should become necessary for city purposes.

Ald. A. Bisset, speaking on the amendments in connection with housing plans, said the city had a housing plan, and if money was to be subscribed to a plan it should go to it. He said that proposed amendments should be tabled until next year to give ample time to consider the proposals.

38 HOUSES FINANCED

J. B. Gillies, secretary, Edmonton Co-operative Building Association, said that his company had financed 38 houses during the short period of its operation, adding that considerably more could have been financed had it been possible to obtain a small loan from the city last year.

He said that application had been made for a $50,000 loan from the city, but that the loan could not be made as there was no provision in the city charter to make such a loan.

Mr. Gillies told council the provincial government had loaned $55,000 to the association. These loans, he said, were interest free for the first three months, and carried an interest rate of four per cent thereafter. The money was loaned to those building homes at five per cent.

C. G. Purvis, K.C., said that not a single borrower from the association was in default of payments on loans made, and suggested that if the city decided to make loans to the association an alderman could be placed on the association's board to pass on loans made.

Ald. James H. Ogilvie, commenting on the proposal made by Mr. Gillies, said that "it appeared a very good scheme, but not the sort that council could go into."

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

In these days of "pin up girls," "swooning crooners" and "men who are making history," what public figure do you admire most and why?

THE ANSWERS

GEORGE PIERCE, carpenter: Prime Minister Churchill, because I think he is perhaps the greatest combination of a politician and a statesman, a man who took hold of a problem that offered no solution, but he wrestled with it, found an answer and won the love and confidence of not only his own people but all the Allied nations and the respect of even his enemies, who have good reason to fear him.

IRENE DAWSON, waitress: I know there are many great men who are much to be admired for their part in world affairs, but to be frank, my hero is Superman. It's a relief to escape from the world of stern reality sometimes, and following the exploits of Superman is like eating a good steak when you're starving or something.

DENNY CLEMENS, war worker: There are so many great men these days, it is hard to say, but among the men who are making history, I sort of have a weakness for General Montgomery. There's a man who doesn't know the meaning of the word impossible and who managed to get a job done in the face of insurmountable difficulties. After all, a man who can get other men to work for him and to die for him is pretty good.

Mild Weather To Continue Here

Little change in prevailing weather conditions in Edmonton is predicted in the forecast for today and tomorrow which is "Fresh winds, fair and mild." The winds which began Wednesday night and reached gale proportions on several occasions, finally subsided at five Thursday afternoon.

The estimated temperature tonight is 24 degrees above, and the estimated high tomorrow 42 degrees. Official reading at 2 p.m. was 31 above.

2 Are Charged With Robbery Entwistle Man

Already facing charges of homicide by omitting to render aid to Raymond C. Jevne, of Entwistle, who died from burns and suffocation in his blazing automobile on a city street early last Friday, Charles Stack and Irene Thomas were charged Friday by city police of robbing Jevne of approximately $200.

Appearing before Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., in city police court Friday morning, the accused man and woman had the theft charges read to them but entered no pleas. The charges of theft and those of homicide, with a charge of vagrancy against Irene Thomas, were all set over to Jan. 28.

An inquest hearing on the death of Jevne is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 1, at the city police station. Hugh Calais Macdonald, K.C., counsel for the two accused, urged an early hearing of the charges as his clients are still in custody, having been unable to arrange the bail of $4,000 set for each accused.

In announcing laying of the theft charges against the Edmonton pair, Detective Inspector Bert Petheram said that police investigation had revealed Stack and Miss Thomas had been with Jevne before the latter had been dragged from his blazing car at the intersection of 97 street and 106 avenue in the early hours of last Friday.

Stack and Miss Thomas informed police by telephone of finding Jevne in his burning car. They were reported to have told police they were waiting for a taxi when they saw the car alight.

Charges of homicide, the first ever laid here under similar circumstances, were then laid.

Power Production Reveals Increase

Power production at the city's power plant for the period Jan. 1 to Jan. 16 amounted to 5,450,400 kilowatt hours compared with 4,674,500 for the same period of 1943, it was disclosed in a report filed Friday with the city commissioners by R. G. Watson, power superintendent. Of the 1944 production 4,485,000 kilowatt hours was consumed by the electric light department compared with 3,740,500 in 1943; 606,100 kilowatt hours by the street railway system against 597,400 in 1943, and 359,300 by the pumping plant compared with 336,600 during the 1943 period.

59,157 Placed In Last Year By "S.S." Office

The total number of placements made from the Edmonton office of the Unemployment Insurance and Selective Service Commission during the year 1943 was 59,157, according to A. O. MacLachlan, acting manager of the office.

Of this number 36,873 were males and 22,284 females. In addition more than 2,000 persons were placed in part-time employment from the employment office.

Mr. MacLachlan said the busiest month of the year was September when 5,318 persons were placed in jobs, 3,238 men and 2,080 women.

The majority of placements were made in the construction industry, although a large number of workers were absorbed by Aircraft Repair Ltd., No. 2 A.O.S. and in the building of highways and airports. The number of workers includes also workers in hundreds of other types of jobs. As selective service regulations came into effect in September 1942 no comparative figures on this year's placements can be given.

Annual Meeting Liberals Jan. 29

To be elected are a president, three vice-presidents, a secretary, treasurer, and 60 executive members. A vice-president will be named for the north, east and west sections of the city, and 20 executive members will be chosen from the same sections.

Gerald G. McGeer, K.C., M.P., of Vancouver, a former mayor of that city, will address the meeting. As yet his topic is unannounced. The meeting starts at 8:15 p.m.

Motor Group Seeks Reduction in Fees

The Alberta Motor Association is planning to make further representations to the government concerning the urgency of a lowered scale of motor license fees, it was learned Friday.

This problem is expected to be one of the main subjects for discussion at the caucus of Social Credit members which has been called for Feb. 8 and 9, the A.M.A. said. The A.M.A. has pointed out repeatedly that conditions of the highways and restrictions on gasoline and tire supplies warrant the reduction of car licenses to a nominal sum.

Although the government rejected the A.M.A.'s request last year for refunds of the 1943 licenses, it was pointed out, it was indicated at that time that consideration would be given the proposal of reducing licenses when the 1944 budget was being prepared.

At present motor licenses range from $10 to $35, based on the wheel base of the vehicle.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Must Know Nature of Man to Get Hard Words

Glib Love-Maker Isn't Going to Propose and Slow Actor Seldom Proves a Philanderer; Each Man Acts Differently

A girl who signs herself "Anxious Marie" wants to know how to make a man propose. Ah! That's asking, and it takes a bit of doing as the English say. It all depends upon the personality of the man, for the technique that might work like a charm with Percival might fall flat as a pancake with Sam. Some men like to do all of the wooing, while others have to be bribed, cajoled, inveigled, even shanghaied into saying: "Will you" to a girl.

If you doubt this assertion, just reflect that you have never heard any man tell how he proposed to his wife. Nor have you ever heard any woman tell how her husband popped the question to her. That is one secret that they bury in their bosoms and that the rack and the thumb screws could not drag out of them, so it is no use to ask Grandma how he did it, nor to try to get a few tips from Grandma about how she wrangled an engagement ring out of him.

MUST STUDY MAN

Now, as has been herein aforesaid, a girl must deal with a man according to his nature and before she wastes her time and effort trying to pry out of him what the Scotch call the "hard words," she does well to do a little serious thinking about what manner of chap he is. If he is a glib love-maker who addresses her at first as Miss Beautiful, and asks her where she has been all these years that he has never met her when he was seeking his heart's ideal, she should let his sweet talk go in one ear and out of the other. He doesn't mean business. That is just his line and he doesn't expect her to take it as anything except pleasant conversation.

Neither should she put too much stress on the love-making of the Perpetual Petter who camps in her parlor chairs and eats her mother's good cooking, and says every evening thing to her except: "Miss Smithers—Mary—darling, may I assume your board bill and shopping ticket for life?" A girl may lead that sort of a chap up to the proposing point, but he balks at the edge of it and it takes a lot of shoving to push him over the brink.

Not to be confused with the Perpetual Petter, however, is the dumb lad who hangs fire in his love-making because he loses his nerve when he tries to tell Angelina about the state of his heart, and that he has gotten a raise in his salary, so what about a little bungalow built for two? Time and again he braces himself up to the point of asking her to be his, but at the crucial moment he chokes up on his Adam's apple and asks her if she doesn't think we are having reasonable weather for this time of the year.

NO PHILANDERER

Of course, the big moment of every woman's life is when the Boy Friend comes across with a bona fide proposal, and it is hard on her to miss it. Nevertheless, Angelina is a smart gal if she pretends to think that some of his mumbling words were a proposal, and throws herself into his arms and says: "O John, this is so sudden!" The woman who has to help a man along with his love-making never has to worry about his philandering. Once is enough for him.

Much is to be said in favor of the absent treatment as a method of bringing men to the place where they have to realize that they must either put up or shut up. This is particularly efficacious in those cases where John and Sally have "gone together," as the phrase goes, ever since their kindergarten days.

It is a pleasant arrangement that permits John to monopolize all of Sally's time and attention and thoughts without his having to support her. This will go on indefinitely unless Sally has the nerve to call time on him, and this she can best do by leaving him flat. When he has no place to spend his evenings, nobody to cater to him, he will take up his option and clinch the trade.

Gideon Planish

By Sinclair Lewis

THE STORY: Dr. Gideon Planish, who gave up his position as Dean of Kinnikinnick College to accept the editorship of Rural Education, is invited to become a Director of the Heskett Rural School Foundation. He is particularly interested when he learns that its present executives are not cashing in sufficiently on the Foundation funds. He and his wife, Peony, plan to attend its Midwinter Conference in Chicago.

XVI
THE Heskett Foundation Conference convened at the Foundation Building, and there were only 100 delegates.

At the secretarial and registration desk of Miss Bernadine Nimrock, the Planishes met their first leaders of the organizational world. They had not experienced such handshaking, such a counterpoint of congratulatory voices, since their last Freshman Reception at Kinnikinnick.

Dr. James Severance Kitto shook hands with them as though he enjoyed it. He had a broad soft red face and a broad soft white hand, and his voice was wonderful; molasses basso with a stick of Scotch in it.

"I feel that you and I can do great things together, Dr. Kitto, and I want you to meet my wife," said Dr. Planish.

Dr. Kitto held Peony's ardent paw almost permanently; he looked at her and then he looked at Dr. Planish, and he boomed, "Right you are! GREAT things!"

More satisfying, even, was the meeting with the Rev. Dr. Christian Stern, of New York, chairman of the executive board. He was a sandy-looking man in his late 30's, dry, thin and galvanic.

Dr. Planish bubbled, "It's most annoying, Doctor. I keep hearing such praise of you from everybody who goes to New York. We all get very jealous."

"Well, well, Doctor! Is that true?" said Dr. Stern.
A crew of others, less brisk about Heskett Foundation politics yet actually more famous in the banquet world in general, made as though they were delighted to have the Planishes introduced to them. There was Maude Jewkins, M.D., who said, humorously but pretty often, that women were better doctors than men because they weren't so poetic. There was Mrs. Natalia Hochberg, of New York, who was now trying to settle a horde of violently unwilling sweatshop workers on the wholesome farm land.

There was Mr. H. Sanderson Sanderson-Smith, born in New England but a graduate of Columbia and therefore refined, and now resident in the hobohemian hinterland of California; book-reviewer and editor of Little Magazines and founder of leagues for nudism, Thomism, cricket and black mass. He had red whiskers and pale eyes and a merry smile, and he had once been taken for a son of Bernard Shaw. He kept on saying that he did not believe in Democracy, but he said it with such gentleness that you thought he didn't mean a word of it—that's what you thought. But they met their one real treasure in Prof. George Riott.

Planishes and he instantly drew toward each other, since they were so much younger than the other up-lifters: Dr. Planish, 37; Riott, 31, and Peony but 27. She whispered to her two men, "Let's shake this bunch of old dodgers and sneak out and have a cocktail."

"Splendid," said Professor Riott. At cocktails, Dr. Planish anxiously watched Peony watch Professor Riott. At last she turned to her husband and nodded, and he went into his act.

"Dr. Riott, my girl and I don't hardly know a soul here, and I hope we three can play around together. Without handing ourselves too much, I feel maybe we three have a slightly more man-of-the-world attitude toward education than antiquies like Kitto—but not cynical, you understand, Doctor?"

"I know just how you mean, Doctor," said Dr. Riott.

"Perhaps more sophisticated, Doctor."

"Yes, I think that might be the word—more urbane and realistic, Doctor."

"That's what I mean, Doctor."

"You boys have another drink," said Peony.

The three musketeers, after an evening in the Heskett Auditorium devoted to enduring it through addresses on Religion in Education by Reverend Kitto and Education in Religion by Reverend Stern, hastened to the Planishes' suite, and they parted at 3 a.m.

They were calling one another George and Gid and Peony by then.

Dr. Planish had explained that he would be willing to become managing secretary of the Heskett Foundation. There were wonderful things he wanted to do for the country schools, and after his experience on Rural Adult Education—

"Right! I'll put it over," said George Riott. "You and I could work out some plans together. Besides, I don't see why Kitto and Stern should go on hogging the whole three million. But have you got acquainted with Hamilton Frisby?"

"I think I ran into him. What is he?"

"The real works behind the Foundation. He's trustee for the whole Heskett estate—the heirs are all imbeciles or painters or both; they live in Italy or the Berkshires and leave everything to Frisby."

"F-R-I-S-B-Y," Peony was writing it down. "He's in the bag already, George. Hey! Put more soda in."

The executive board of the Heskett Foundation met at 10:30 next morning. They decided to buy a new carpet for the auditorium, to appoint a committee to elect a chairman to authorize the secretary to draw up a resolution to inform Prof. John Dewey that they agreed with him in principle, to publish a symposium on spreading democracy by saluting the flag in all schools, and to elect Dr. Gideon Planish as managing secretary of the Foundation, at $3900 a year.

Professor Riott went to see if he would accept.

"Gid, I'm sorry as hell I couldn't jack 'em up higher than 39 hundred, but that's all the tightwads would stand for. And you getting 42 hundred already! Still, I do think this slow-poke institution

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

For the past two days I have been discussing habits and behavior of the growing child which the parents are always hard put to account for and to end.

Whatever the behavior, let us admit that in the many years in which a child is concerned with growing he is bound to experiment with all kinds of conduct, not all of which is going to be pleasing to the parent.

His body is a ceaseless wonder to him. It is capable of all kinds of sensations, to which he will react in various ways. He may discover that it is nice some of the time to be sweet to people and thrilling, at times, to be mean to them.

He gets excitement out of rudeness, such bad habits thrive on the attention they bring from agitated parents. He is going to be good one day and bad the next and neither one is any final estimate of the person he will be when grown.

It is literally impossible, if it weren't so unwise, to try to come to grips with everything a child does of which we disapprove. Parents have to learn to be partially blind, sometimes wholly deaf and placidly indifferent to behavior that may be undesirable but is often only temporary.

All of this sounds, I know, as if I were telling a parent to do nothing about misbehavior and bad habits. I do not intend it that way. I know, no matter what I say, parents, being parents, will react to the various irritations existent when young growups try to rear children to be good children.

What I am trying to say is that we must expect deviations from the ideal. What we deplore to be (thumb sucking, rudeness, profanity, negativism) may be gone tomorrow and hardly worth the effort we made to bring them to an end more swiftly.

If we can be patient we may find that the behavior we disapprove disappears, for no better reason than that the child has outgrown its satisfactions. We haven't impressed them upon him by our fervent and often futile efforts to deprive him of them.

There are many subtle and tactful ways of "doing something," about behavior we want ended. We can see that the child is well-tempered and therefore good-natured. We can insure plenty of sleep to repair the damage to his active body. We can cushion his existence with our love and make it thrilling with playmates.

If we would stress these and minimize scolding, frustration and punishment, we would free him to be co-operative instead of taking the reins and running wild, merely because we are pulling so hard to prevent him. It seems to be the contrary streak in human nature for a child to want to do just what no one wants him to do.

You may have our leaflet, "Wise Management of the Child," by sending your request for it together with a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldrid in care of this newspaper.

might lead the way to nobler and much better publicized organizations. How about it, Gid?"

Dr. Planish said bravely, "Yes, it may be a step into a wider and more useful field. I'll take it, George. By the way, I hope they're pensioning off Bernadine Nimrock."

"Yes—11 hundred a year."

"Oh, fine! I certainly would hate to think I was doing that poor old hen out of a job."

"So I'll tell 'em the 39 hundred bucks is okay, Gid?"

"Yes, you may tell them so. I think I may honestly consider myself non-commercial," said Dr. Planish.

He had already decided that since he never actually got more than 28 hundred out of Joslin, he would take the new job even at three thousand. He continued, "But they must understand what a sacrifice I'm making."

"I've already explained that to them," said Professor Riott.

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

In Washington recently I had an opportunity to drop in and kibitz at the Federal Bridge League game, where 32 teams-of-four were playing. The players of Washington are proud of the blood and serum bank which they started several years ago at the Children's Hospital, and to which they contribute annually.

At the game I pulled my chair up behind the newly elected president of the American Contract Bridge League, Capt. Richmond H. Skinner, who was playing with our former national tournament director, Capt. Russell J. Baldwin. I think that Captain Skinner decided to get a little fancy in his bidding because I was kibitzing. His bid of two hearts was just a psychic. East's redouble showed club strength. The three-club bid was another psychic, but once again East's redouble showed club strength. After the three-diamond bid, East's bid of three spades showed a control in that suit. Captain Skinner made a nice bid when he went to three no trump.

The opening spade lead was won with dummy's ace and Skinner took his time running eight diamond tricks. Of course, all North had to do was to hold the ace of hearts and a club, while South held the ace of clubs and the king-queen-jack of spades.

War Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Soya flour and grits are important adders of protein to our wartime menus. They can be used in desserts, too, such as pie crust and cookies. To keep up the family's nutritional standard and have them like it, try these tested recipes.

SOYA PIE CRUST
One-half cup soya flour, ½ cup shortening, ½ cup water, 1½ cups sifted enriched flour, 1½ teaspoons salt.

Cream together soya flour and shortening and gradually blend in the water. Sift together enriched flour and salt. Cut or rub flour-salt mixture into the soya-shortening mixture until the dough holds together. Turn out on floured board and knead lightly for ½ minute. Divide dough into two portions. Roll out each portion to ¼ inch thickness. For single crust, place in pie pan and prick with fork. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 10 to 12 minutes. Yield: two 9-inch single crusts, sufficient pastry for an 8- or 9-inch double crust pie, or 8 small tart shells.

SOYA REFRIG. COOKIES
Two-thirds cup soya flour, ½ cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1-1½ cups sifted enriched flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon nutmeg.

Cream together soya flour and shortening. Add sugar gradually, creaming until fluffy. Add well-beaten eggs and grated lemon rind. Sift together enriched flour, baking powder, salt and nutmeg. Add to creamed mixture. Blend well. Shape in roll and wrap in waxed paper and place in refrigerator for 2 hours. (Do not freeze). When ready to bake, slice ¼ inch thick, place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes, or until nicely browned. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

WRITES HOME

LAW. Bea McMillan, R.C.A.F. (W.D.), on overseas duty, who wrote to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McMillan, 12827 122 street, of the Christmas enjoyed by Canadian girls in England. LAW. McMillan's two brothers, Flight Sgt. Lorne and Flight Sgt. Malcolm McMillan are also overseas and she sees them quite frequently.

W.D.'s Visit Wounded Men

A member of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.), walking through a plastic surgery ward of a hospital in England came upon a crash victim whose head and face were swathed in bandages and both his arms suspended from the ceiling by an intricate harness. "My gosh," she exclaimed, "what does the other guy look like?" At this the patient threw back his head and laughed heartily.

This kind of thing happens every Sunday, when a detachment of girls, heavily loaded with cigarettes, chocolates and other delicacies supplied by Auxiliary Services, invades the wards where airmen, most of whom have been injured in plane crashes, go through the tedious process of having the damage repaired. Apart from the gifts they bear the girls spread good cheer and are credited by the medical staff with raising the morale of the patients, which is the best aid to recovery.

A recent edition of "Wings Abroad", official R.C.A.F. newspaper, ran a picture of LAW. Bea McMillan of Edmonton, administering a chocolate bar to an obviously pleased patient. In a letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McMillan of 12827 122 street, she warned them not to be shocked at her rollicky appearance. She said the life is wonderful as evidenced by the 15 or 20 pounds she has put on since going overseas.

The idea of visiting the boys in hospital all started with LAW. Eileen Hasset of Vancouver who thought they warranted a little diversion. Recently the regular Sunday visit was supplemented by a concert featuring the Headquarters Glee Club and R.C.A.F. band.

HAPPY
LAW. McMillan is very happy about being in England where two brothers, Flight Sgt. Lorne McMillan and Flight Sgt. Malcolm McMillan, are also serving with the R.C.A.F. She lives in a flat with two other air force girls and sees her brothers quite frequently.

Fearing a glum Christmas the girls decided to have a real dinner complete with an eighteen pound turkey, which cost them $20 and a bottle of wine, for which they paid $10. Bea's brother Lorne was coming down and bringing two other lads, which would just make a nice party. However at the last minute one of her room mates met a crowd of U.S. sailors whom she brought home, with the result that 16 sat down to dinner and not one scrap of turkey was left.

"It was the best Christmas we could have had away from home," wrote LAW. McMillan, "and people shouldn't feel too sorry for us. We don't do too badly."

Friends of Varsity Release Pamphlet

"Friends of the University," a voluntary organization of people wishing to contribute something concrete to the University of Alberta, have issued a pamphlet, "Past, Present, Future," outlining work done and what they hope to achieve in the future.

Frank Pike, who volunteered to act as chairman of a publicity committee, points out in a forward that Universities, whether state endowed or not, are finding it necessary to strengthen their foundations and broaden their influence and usefulness, striving always for higher standards.

They need the latest scientific equipment for their laboratories, books for their libraries, and more scholarships for their students. The University of Alberta needs more than government aid—it needs the vitalizing force, encouragement, and support of its friends.

A minimum contribution of $5 a year entitles the donor to call himself a member of "Friends of the University," and each contributor will receive a copy of "The New Trail," a quarterly publication of the University of Alberta and the Alumni Association, in which an annual report of the organization will appear each January.

Those who wish to become Friends are invited to send their annual pledge to Clem King, executive assistant to the president, University of Alberta.

Pioneer Project Is Launched Here

A pioneer project for boys of 15 to 18 years of age who are old enough to be doing a splendid job in the war effort and young enough to require a special recreational and educational program was launched at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday noon when the west's first "Emplo-Y" group, sponsored by Aircraft Repair Ltd., began its program.

Catering to boys from 15 to 18 years old who are working at the big Calder war plant, the program is actually a war time version of the old Employed Boys' Brotherhoods and Leisure Time Leagues.

The "Emplo-Y" group will strive for a "fit to serve" program, including gym classes and other sports service projects within their own plant and community and educational and fellowship activities operated by themselves.

Officers of the first club made up of Aircraft Repair night shift workers are Jeff Thornell, president; Stuart Phillips, vice-president and program convener; Stanley Springford, secretary-treasurer; Leslie Whitaker, membership convener and Russ Warawa, sports convener.

The club will be under the supervision of Ralph C. Young, "Y" program secretary, assisted by Bob Torrance, special services director at Aircraft Repair Ltd.

Other officers elected were: J. M. Stevenson, Calgary, 1st vice-president; T. G. Aberdeen, Edmonton, second vice-president; Maxwell C. Dewar, city architect, secretary, and Prof. C. S. Burgess, Edmonton, treasurer.

These officers, together with V. E. Meech, Lethbridge, and R. P. Blakey, Edmonton, will form the executive committee of the association.

Friday afternoon, post-war planning was discussed, and at night the annual banquet of the association will be held at the Macdonald hotel.

Construction of the booster pumping station at 132 avenue and 82 street is proceeding rapidly, and it is anticipated that this work will be completed within the next few weeks.

At one time the earth contained twice as much water as it does now.

Minister Says No Nine-Month Education Year

Opposition to a nine-month school term for the province of Alberta was expressed here Friday by Hon. Solon E. Low, minister of education, in commenting on Calgary reports outlining a resolution passed at the annual convention of the United Farm Women of Alberta.

The resolution asked for a nine-month school term, from Oct. 1 to the following June 30, for the duration. It would provide a three-month holiday period for school students.

"I am opposed to the nine-month term," Mr. Low stated. "Our courses are based on the 10-month year, and we cannot expect children to make 10 months' growth in a nine-month period. We have found that a three-month holiday period is too long for the younger children."

The minister referred to his announcement of some two weeks ago, when he stated he would introduce legislation at the forthcoming session of the Legislative Assembly, calling for the schools to operate from the beginning of October, to the following July 15.

"We believe we can get by with a nine and one-half month school term," he said.

My Day

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON — Friday and Saturday were the beginning of the infantile paralysis campaign for me. In a rather chilly atmosphere, a small group of us stood outside at Iowa's Capitol theatre Friday noon and opened the "Mile of Dimes". The various bottles representing different states were not yet marked. When I opened my purse to find the two ten-cent pieces that I always put on the line for my husband and myself, I only had one ten-cent piece! The gentlemen around me were too chivalrous to change a dollar bill—they all wanted to give me the extra ten cents. But I finally persuaded them to take the dollar bill. After having acquired a ten-cent piece from one of them, I went through the usual process of speaking over the radio with one of the District of Columbia commissioners, Mr

Mason, and then placed my dime on the line. With keen enjoyment, Mr. Mason informed me that he was putting my dollar in the District of Columbia bottle, so that New York would contribute a dollar to the District of Columbia quota!

Yesterday Miss Mary Pickford came to lunch with me. She has been appointed by the National Foundation as chairman of the woman's division, and she is giving all of her time to help the foundation during this drive. I enjoyed interviewing her on the radio after lunch. In talking to her, I learned that she is visiting a number of cities and undertaking a full time job.

It is going to be hard to find volunteers to do some of the things which have been done before, such as paid employees to take up collections night after night in theatres. Volunteers will have to do this now, because theatres are understaffed. But I think they will be found, for many women who cannot do a full time job will gladly give a few hours several times a week during a short period. They know that infantile paralysis does not stop because we happen to be fighting a war. We are just as apt to have an epidemic now as in peace time. Therefore, war or no war, we have to go on with this particular home front campaign.

The Seventh Annual American Hobby Show will open in New York City on Monday, January 17, under the auspices of the American Hobby Foundation. The guiding spirit of this foundation is Mr. Erwin M. Frey. He has encouraged people all over the world to recover from mental and physical ailments by developing a hobby, and he is an expert on hobbies of all kinds. This hobby show is tied in with the fourth war loan drive because some of the people who are going to need hobbies are our wounded veterans back from the war. The British government has asked Mr. Frey's council and established hobby projects in many of their hospitals as part of the post-war rehabilitation program and, of course, we will have to do the same thing.

McCoy Health Service

Some people are tired when they get up in the morning, others go through a tired slump in the middle of the afternoon, while many are tired all of the time. In most cases, the condition is one of chronic tiredness and could not be called a state of real exhaustion. However, since one who is very tired may easily become sick, you should try to banish that tired feeling within the next two months, and I am sure that you are going to find it possible to do this and to replace your present tiredness with an abundance of strength.

A continual tired feeling and a desire to rest is not normal as a person in good health has exactly the opposite feeling—he wants to be doing something and needs only the usual rest gained during sleep. Once you overcome your tiredness and replace it with plenty of strength, this new vigor will do this for you: you are able to turn out more work and still have plenty of energy left to enjoy your play; you are able to carry through to a finish anything that you undertake; all activities become easier for you and you no longer force yourself to start to work; you banish that drowsy, dopey, heavy feeling; you will find it a pleasure to mix with people and are more popular with your friends as you do not miss any fun or play because you are too tired to go out. Plenty of strength will benefit you in many other ways, and I want you to gain this feeling that you are brimming over with unlimited vigor and vitality.

I have seen many hundreds of tired patients make a remarkable improvement once they find out how to do it, and I know from practical experience that, if you will follow the right directions for a short period of two months, the increase in strength which will become your will greatly please you.

Upon looking over four basketsful of letters which have just come in the morning's mail from you who read this column, I find that those who are tired also tell me about the following symptoms: You say that you catch cold easily; that it is hard for you to pay attention to conversation or work and you want to stop whatever you are doing; you notice that you lose your temper more quickly when tired than when rested; you may write what your head feels heavy or light; that you are dizzy; that your heart pounds or your stomach is bothering you. One man says, "I simply feel all in." A woman with four children says: "I have about as much 'get up and go' as a limp dishrag, and I am so tired that I do not see how I can even go to the store and buy the things for supper." An office worker writes: "I am so tired my whole body sags just as though I were loaded down with fifty pounds of iron on my back. I can't push things through as I used to do." Several letters mention cold hands and feet, others describe a headache which comes on as the tired sensation increases.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address: McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 8th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Public Library Concerts Prove Great Success

L. Y. Cairns, K.C., chairman of the board of directors of the Edmonton Public Library, said Thursday that about 11,000 people have attended the recorded music concerts given at the library during the past five months.

Speaking before the regular Thursday meeting of the Optimist Club at the Macdonald, Mr. Cairns pointed out that the Edmonton public library is among the pioneer libraries in adding musical activities to its service.

FOUR WEEKLY CONCERTS

At the present time, he said, there are four concerts a week—operatic selections on Tuesday night, symphony music on Thursday night, familiar music on Saturday night and a Sunday afternoon concert.

Ultimately, he continued, the library hopes to be able to extend its musical service by offering a lending service of recordings.

Outlining the different departments and activities of the library, Mr. Cairns emphasized that the "library street car" initiated in Edmonton in October, 1941, was the first of its kind in the world. While library buses or other motor vehicles existed elsewhere, the street car idea was original and unique.

The success of the library street car is evidenced by the fact that for the month of December 4,434 books were distributed through its facilities, he said. Areas served thus far include Calder, North Edmonton and the Highlands and the library hopes to extend this service to other parts of the city in the near future.

AIM OF LIBRARY

Mr. Cairns said that the aim of the Edmonton Public Library was to give "the maximum service to the maximum number of people" without charge.

Bill Tait introduced Mr. Cairns and Dr. W. Webber moved a vote of thanks. President Louis LaFleche was in the chair.

Two Are Arrested Breaking Charge

Reuben Neuman, 10034 110 street, and a 17-year-old Edmonton youth, were arrested at 9:20 p.m. Thursday by Edmonton detectives and charged with breaking and entering the Donald H. Bain Co., Ltd., in the downtown district, after detectives and other police officers had surrounded the building.

The accused pair had entered the building through a rear window, and had planned to steal furs stored inside, the police contend.

Neuman pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking and entering when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Miller, K.C., in city police court Friday morning.

At the request of Crown Prosecutor C. G. Purvis, K.C., Neuman was remanded to Jan. 29 for sentence. The juvenile companion of Neuman, taken into custody at the same time, has had his case transferred to the juvenile court.

City Butcher Found Guilty Illegal Sales

Max Dietrich, market building butcher, was found guilty of unlawfully exposing for sale pork not bearing the federal, provincial or city seal of approval, contrary to a city bylaw, by Magistrate A. I. Miller, K.C., in city police court Thursday afternoon. Passing of sentence was withheld until three other charges have been dealt with, and the case was adjourned to Jan. 24.

Dietrich previously entered pleas of guilty to two charges—issuing six invoices to a cafe, which invoices did not show the number of meat coupons, a breach of Wartime Prices and Trade board regulations, and unlawfully selling fresh pork which did not bear federal, provincial or city seal. Penalties concerning the latter charges were also reserved.

INVESTIGATIONS MADE

Acting under instructions, an officer of the Wartime Prices and Trade board made a survey of the market shop of the accused, last August 14. He recognized a loin on the cutting block as one coming from a packing house. Going into the stall, the investigator looked into the refrigerator, and then asked the operator where the meat had come from.

The pork—four fresh hams and five loins—came from export hogs, the court was informed. After an absence of 25 minutes, during which time the witness said he reported to his superior officer, he returned to the market place, asked for the invoices for the meat, and then found the meat was not in the refrigerator. He was told by the accused that it had been sold.

The meat was later found in the accused's truck, which had been parked on another street. Dietrich said he did not know whose meat it was, and added that he had loaned the truck to a man who wanted to go to Spruce Grove.

CHECK INVOICES

R.C.M.P. authorities told of checking the invoices at the store, and of being handed two pieces of rind, taken from a scrap bucket. Both pieces bore the "Canada Approved" stamp. Both seals exactly fitted into two of the found hams.

"Evidence of the accused is contradictory to the statements made to police and the evidence of the investigator," said Mr. Miller, as he found the accused guilty.

"The goods had been exposed for sale," he continued. "The accused had admitted to the investigator that the goods in the refrigerator had been sold; the loin on the block was exposed for sale," he said. The hearing will continue on Monday.

Landlords Seek Rental Changes

The Edmonton Landlords Protective Association at a recent meeting passed a resolution asking the Dominion government to implement the necessary changes to remove misunderstandings, and effect an administration of rent control in which the landlords be given consideration. Copies of the resolution were sent to the Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, and to Mrs. Cora T. Casselman, M.P. for East Edmonton.

The resolution stated that though the Edmonton landlords are most anxious to assist in every way in winning the war and they recognize the necessity of control as to rents and tenants, there is a lack of endeavor or capacity on the part of the Rent Control Board to co-operate with the landlords and make the most of the services they can render.

The association asked that persons who have a general view of the situation from the point of view of both the landlord and the tenant be appointed to the rent control boards or the personnel dealing with administration.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

Map shows Red Army's strategy of cutting vital railroads, barring reinforcements, supplies and escape from German armies on various sectors so that later these can be snipped off by series of wheeling pincers movements. (1) By cutting railroad south of Leningrad Russians take first step toward eventual goal—relief of that city. (2) At Nasva and above Nevel, Reds cut vital Novosokolinski road, control supply route to Leningrad. Baltic Army's thrust toward Latvia tends to isolate Leningrad sector. (3) Capture of rail junction centres here puts Red Army on road to Pinsk, 100 miles away. (4) Slashing Soviet attack takes three and four-way rail junctions, including Kostopol, vital link with westward and southern "escape" routes. Germans attempted to recapture in strong counter-attack. Reds aim at Rovno to imperil Nazi grip on vast area. (5) Germans feared most fiercely here against Red drive across Bug river, aimed at Odessa railway, main escape route for Nazis in Dnieper bend.

French Sub Lost As Attacks Made

ALGIERS, Jan. 21.—(AP)—French submarines, which have been patrolling recently off the southern coast of France and particularly in the Toulon and Marseille areas, have "successfully" attacked two enemy ships with the loss of one French sub. It was announced yesterday. The dates of the operations and the name of the missing submarine were not disclosed.

U.S. Air Force Gets New Night Fighter

DAYTON, O., Jan. 21.—(AP)—A new night fighter has been added to the United States army air forces' weapons, the material command at Wright Field disclosed last night with announcement of conversion of Douglas A-20A Havoc bombers into P-70s.

Command officers said the twin-engine ship mounted four fixed, forward-firing 20-millimetre cannon in the nose instead of the bombardier's greenhouse, and that other modifications had been made to "facilitate night fighting."

The black-painted P-70, unofficially named the "Midnight Mauler" joins the P-61, or "Black Widow," announced last week.

The P-70 has been under secret development by the Douglas Aircraft Company and the material command for a year, the announcement said, and now mass modifications are being made.

A two-man crew flies the P-70, powered by two Wright Cyclone engines.

Holy Trinity Has Successful Jubilee Year

The annual meeting covering the 50th anniversary year of Holy Trinity Church, Edmonton South, was held in the church basement on Wednesday evening, with the rector, the Rev. W. M. Nainby presiding.

Reports for the year were read by the rector; the rector's warden, Howard Tye; the people's warden, A. H. Templeton; the secretary of the vestry, E. H. Rivers; and a representative of each of the nine church organizations.

The combined statements showed a membership in organizations of 264 in a parish of approximately 500 families and an improvement in the church's financial position of just over $4,100, some of the new assets being the Jubilee chimes, new chapel drapes and a basement heating unit.

Votes of thanks were extended to all workers and especially to the W.A. Active Service Group which has supplied and sent gifts and comforts each year since the war started to men and women from the parish on active service and who now number 253.

ANOTHER ACHIEVEMENT

The commencement of a Sunday school held each Sunday in the University High school, Garneau, was another achievement of Jubilee year.

Women in India Again Employed In Coal Mines

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Women again are working in coal mines in the three provinces of Bengal, Bihar and the Central Provinces of India, according to a statement by L. S. Amery, secretary of state for India, in reply to a question in the house of commons yesterday.

He said the government of India had reluctantly suspended the prohibition, which had been in force since 1937, because of the war effort. It was purely a temporary measure and would be reviewed in six months. Wage rates were the same as those for men on similar work.

Amery said it was because wives had not been allowed to work in the mines that the miners themselves had drifted away. Welfare measures would be provided.

Government's Record Factor In By-Election

The Social Credit party won the Red Deer by-election on the strength of the present provincial government's record, David Ure, M.L.A., for Red Deer riding, told an audience of 300 persons at the Social Credit Hall, 974 Jasper avenue, Thursday night.

"We would have won by a large majority, if the electors had known more of the government's record," Mr. Ure added. The issue, he said, was "Were the people in that part of the country ready to back up the government?"

"The important thing was not that one individual was elected—it was that the people of the constituency said to the world at large, 'We are satisfied with this government.'"

The socialists complain because they had no organization in Red Deer, Mr. Ure continued. "They had one of the finest organizations in the riding," he stated.

"The Socialists brought in their national leader, and in every place where he spoke but one, the socialist candidate ran third in the count."

BUSINESS INCREASE

One result of the by-election has been an increased business for the treasury branches at Red Deer, Innisfail, the meeting was told. "The branches in those two centres have done much more business since Dec. 16. The people realize a little more what the government is doing."

In discussing the natural resource situation in the province, Mr. Ure said that since 1935, no natural resources have been sold outright to individuals or groups of individuals. The government's policy is to lease the resources, and these leases can be broken if a lessee's record is unsatisfactory.

GOVERNMENT RECORD

The Social Credit government has rendered service to the people in Alberta in cutting down wastage of gas in the Turner Valley oil field, and also in breaking the monopoly in the provincial insurance field, Mr. Ure said.

"This government has done more for education than any other government in the Dominion of Canada. It has made educational advantages available to children of the more remote parts of the province."

Praising the large school unit system, the M.L.A.-elect said it was responsible for decreased costs of administration and operation of schools. He quoted figures from the records of Red Deer school division to illustrate his points.

PROBLEM TODAY

The problem facing Canadians today is not one of production, but one of distribution, Mr. Ure declared.

Civil Service Credit Union Names Officers

At the annual meeting of the Edmonton Civil Service Credit Union Monday night at the government cafe, a four per cent. dividend was declared to be paid to members on their investments and a 25 per cent. rebate will be paid to borrowers on the interest paid by them during 1943.

Newly elected officers are J. H. Thorne, who was returned to the board of directors and A. Pearl, succeeding Mark W. Robertson, who retired at his own request. O. C. Lambert succeeds A. E. Duke on the credit committee and Kay Heaton replaces R. H. Huggert on the supervisory committee.

According to the reports submitted to the meeting, the Union has 270 members and an accumulation of $10,000 worth of assets.

Organized five years ago, the Edmonton Civil Service Credit and Savings Union has loaned members $41,209 during the five years, it was reported. In 1943, loans to members amounted to $16,292.

There were 38 members present. Following the general meeting, the board of directors met and re-elected F. J. Fitzpatrick, president; J. H. Thorne, vice-president, and R. H. Midske, secretary-treasurer.

Saboteurs Cause Second Fatal Train Wreck in France

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(AP)—In the second fatal train wreck in two days by anti-Nazi French saboteurs, six persons were killed and 29 injured yesterday in the derailment of a passenger train near Paris, the Vichy radio said last night. The French domestic broadcast said the derailment had been caused by "bolts being removed from a rail." The same method was said by Vichy to have been used in the wrecking of a Pau-Toulouse express train Wednesday, when 25 persons were killed and 50 injured.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Merriek Drug Stores or any druggist, and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

HELP THE COAL DEALER

TO Help you

Consult your dealer regarding your needs:

Your dealer has many pressing problems. Let him know how much fuel you will need to last until May 1, in addition to the amount you have in your bin. He can then organize his deliveries so that you will receive your share of fuel as it may become available.

Have your bins ready for the delivery man:

He is a busy man these days. Do everything possible to speed up his job. If you are getting both soft and hard coal separately, have the necessary spaces ready and cleared for each.

Clear all approaches to your bins:

Be sure that driveway, walk and outside steps are cleared of snow, and sanded if necessary; also clear walk and driveway. Use nearest windows. Keep inside steps cleared and free of boxes, pails, etc.

Accept whatever kind of usable fuel the dealer can supply:

Some types of coal are scarce and you can't afford to insist on specific grades or sizes as you would in normal times. Don't take a chance. Any kind of coal is preferable to none.

Take delivery when dealer can make it:

Your dealer is working with limited delivery facilities which must be used continuously throughout the winter, if every householder is to receive his share of available supplies. Don't wait, therefore, until you are almost out of fuel before permitting your dealer to replenish your bin. Let him make delivery when he can.

Save one ton in five

Get your copy of "Thirty-three Ways to Save Coal" from your dealer immediately.

Dealers are confronted with problems of both labour and supply. By co-operating in these ways with your coal dealer, you will help make things easier for yourself.

U.F.A. Asks Action

Claim Alberta Farm Lands
Are Being "Gobbled Up"
By Enemy Aliens, Pacifists

CALGARY, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Pacifists and enemy aliens were gobbling up Canadian farm lands while the sons of loyal citizens were fighting overseas, declared J. K. Sutherland, vice-president of the United Farmers of Alberta, introducing a series of resolutions at the annual convention here yesterday.

Warns Farming
Must Not Again
Be 'Side-Show'

CALGARY, Jan. 21.—(CP)—Any return to the pre-war policy of treating agriculture as a "side-show" would be utter folly, Lord De La Warr, chairman of the Agricultural Research Council of the United Kingdom, said here yesterday as he discussed the future farm outlook at the United Farmers of Alberta annual convention.

The farmers of Canada, the United Kingdom, Australia, Argentina and throughout the world were not competitors, but common sufferers from an economic mistake. "We must get together and work out a common policy," said the visitor, who operates an 850-acre farm in East Sussex.

ATTENDS SESSIONS

He had been glad of the opportunity to sit in on the convention discussions, said Lord De La Warr and it had become apparent to him that the Canadian farmers were thinking along much the same lines as those in the United Kingdom.

"We should insist that all our governments put into effect the recommendations of the International Food Conference held at Hot Springs, Virginia, last year," he declared. The delegates from 44 nations of the world had agreed at the conference that the problem was not over-production of primary food products, but under-consumption.

Britain, he said, had moved towards increasing consumption by subsidizing food for a great section of the population which lacked income for food sufficiency.

NEED FAIR PRICES

Maximum production for maximum consumption could only be accomplished if the farmer knew he could sell his production at a fair price. There must be agreements after the war between importing and exporting countries with regard to quality and price. "The only alternative will be a return to the law of the jungle economics of the pre-war system," said the speaker.

U.F.A. Directors

Elected at Meet

CALGARY, Jan. 21.—(CP)—The 11 constituency associations of the United Farmers of Alberta met in separate sessions at the annual convention here yesterday to elect the directors who will represent them on the U.F.A. board in 1944.

Watson of Picardville; Battle River, Andrew Wood of Riverton; Bow River and West Calgary, George E. Church, Balzac; Camrose, Carl Colvin, Sedgewick; Jasper, Edson and West Edmonton, Donald Cameron, Lake Isle; Lethbridge, J. Flock, Lethbridge; Macleod and East Calgary, M. H. Ward, Arrowwood; Medicine Hat, W. Armstrong, Bassano; North Peace River, W. J. Williams, Brownville; South Peace River, Hugh Allen, Hualien; Red Deer, A. B. MacGorman, Penhold; Vegreville, R. Hennig, Fort Saskatchewan, and Wetaskiwin, G. L. Pritchard, Wetaskiwin.

New Subway System
Is Opened in Moscow

MOSCOW, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Moscow's newest subway system carried its first morning crowds yesterday, shortening by two-thirds the time required to make the former three-hour trip from the Kursk railway station to the Izmailovo section of the capital. The line has three stations, including one named for Premier Joseph Stalin.
